A Big Surprise Awaits You

FRIENDS:—

I have always enjoyed a good business. For months I have been planning this big sale to show my sincere appreciation of our most cordial business relations. I am not in the habit of running special sales, but I do believe that this is an opportune time to give the people the benefit of a big Money Saving Sale. Especially so right at the start of winter, when your expenditures are the greatest. Trusting that you will take advantage of this unusual event and thanking you in advance for your continued patronage, I am, Yours truly,

A. COREY
