

You say you have no enemies. If this is a fact, then you should be ashamed of yourself, for you have never stood up for right against wrong, you have never protected the weak against the bully, you have never even dared to protect your own rights against persecution. Had you done these things you would have made enemies. Even if you had done none of these things, but achieved a little more success in your business than your neighbor, if your children were a little brighter in school or a little better behaved out of school, you would have made enemies, for failure hates success. The man who has no enemies should be ashamed of himself—Rainier Review.

HERE'S A HEALTHY SIGN

It is interesting to note that more and more big city concerns are distributing their printing contracts to job offices in the smaller towns, and that many of the magazines owning plants of their own are moving out of the great centers of population. It breaks down the old belief that the bigger the plant and the bigger the town the better the printing. Business men have come to know that good printing is a matter of brains and machinery, and that these can function in the small town as well—quite often better—than in the stuffy, soot-laden city. The matter of raw materials, such as paper and ink, is not a problem. The smaller towns buy from the same mills and the same dealers as the city printing offices, and at the same price. Then, too, greater care is taken with the job in the smaller offices, because the workman is anxious to prove beyond question that he can turn out as neat, attractive and business-getting printing as comes from the mammoth city institutions. The fact that expenses are not as high and that the work can always be done cheaper by the smaller printing offices is also tending to bring more and more job work out of the cities and into the small-town plants.

Americans may be held in low esteem in some European countries, but the grand old American dollar is always a welcome visitor.

The so-called Jefferson section of the Pacific highway, which has been undergoing improvement for two months, has been opened to traffic. The improvement provides a continuous stretch of pavement from Portland to Albany.

The Wallula cut-off, proposed to branch off from the Columbia river highway and run direct to Walla Walla via Wallula, eliminating the route via Pendleton, has been placed on the Oregon road map by the state highway commission.

In an endeavor to bring all the loganberry acreage in the state under co-operative control and raise the industry to an independent plane, which in effect will be a price-fixing independence, a meeting will be held at Salem on December 7.

The assessed value of property of the public utility corporations in Oregon for the year 1922 is $189,359,984.60, while the apportioned value, on which the counties will collect taxes in 1923, aggregates $123,797,964.54, it was announced by the state tax commissioner.

The third western white pine blister rust conference, bringing together experts on tree diseases from Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and California for the purpose of drawing up a plan of campaign for next spring's warfare against the tree malady was held in Portland last week.

President Harding had an Oregon turkey for his Thanksgiving dinner, a twenty-two pound tom grown on the country place at Hood River of the Rev. William A. Sunday. The bird was expressed to the White House as a Thanksgiving gift of the evangelist and "Ma" Sunday.

Record-breaking cattle fattened on the range at the headwaters of Butte creek, Jackson county, were purchased last week by Nichols & Ashpole of Medford from Mrs. Julia Doubleday. The average weight of the cows was 1179 pounds and the average weight of the steers was 1279 pounds.

After months of negotiations and conferences, the primary and secondary highway systems on which federal money can be spent in the future were adopted by the state highway commission and the map was sent to Washington, D. C., to receive the O. K. of the secretary of the department of agriculture.

Raymond Victor Jenkins, son of Chief of Police Jenkins of Portland, was nominated as principal midshipman at the United States naval academy at Annapolis by Senator Stanfield. William A. Richardson, son of Captain A. Richardson of Astoria, and Frederic W. Hesser, son of W. H. Hesser of Hermiston, received similar appointments from Senator Stanfield.

Due to lack of cars shipments of domestic orders of lumber by the 145 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's association for the week ending November 18 were 29 per cent below normal. Production was 3 per cent above normal and new business was 6 per cent below production. The mills manufactured 98,562,181 feet sold 92,643,393 feet and shipped but 65,334,728 feet.

There were four fatalities due to industrial accidents in Oregon during the week ending November 23, according to a report prepared by members of the state industrial accident commission. The victims were: William J. McTeague, laborer, Medford; C. W. Drake, laborer, Medford; H. Hanson, woodcutter, Clatskanie; and Roland Sherwood, logger, Black Rock. A total of 663 accidents were reported to the commission.

Another vessel to take the place of the coast guard cutter Algonquin, to patrol the waters at the mouth of the Columbia river next spring, was promised by Captain Reynolds of the United States coast guard service in a conference with Senator McNary. The Algonquin will be sent to Alaska, and officials of the port of Astoria have been demanding that the waters at the mouth of the Columbia be not left without protection.

Mayor Baker, City Health Officer Parrish and other city officials have launched a movement to endeavor to have Portland selected as the location for one of the stations to be supported by the "commonwealth" fund for the purpose of demonstrating methods of child welfare and protection. Announcement has been made by Secretary of Commerce Hoover that $239,000 a year will be set aside for five years for the "commonwealth" fund to establish three stations, one in the south, one in the middle west and one in the far west.

Oregon's state traffic department, in addition to checking up the various motor vehicle licenses and collecting thousands of dollars annually from delinquent car owners, is playing an important part in ridding the highways of the state of reckless, careless and drunken drivers. This was indicated in a report issued by T. A. Raffety, chief inspector for the state motor vehicle department, covering the period January 1, 1922, to October 31, 1922. The report shows that in the ten months there were 828 arrests by state traffic officers in connection with infractions involving danger.

In Chicago six handits robbed a jewelry store of $40,000 worth of diamonds. But they didn't get any coal.

Many pains and aches are due to a wrenched Spine or Skeleton.

Don't tell the doctor where you are suffering. As a "physicist" he is trained to locate your weakness. Let him tell you.

A straight Chiropractor is one who adjusts the spine with his hands.

Dr. Breittling is both a straight Chiropractor and Spineologist, having had 15 years of active practice in Portland, Ore., and thousands patients to his credit. He is an able man.
