OREGON NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Important Occurrences of Past Week Briefly Compiled for Our Readers.

A price of 9 cents is being paid for prunes bought in the Umpqua valley by packers.

At a recent election the city of Florence, near the mouth of the Siuslaw river, voted to reduce its size.

Twenty-two buildings in Portland, all rated as firetraps, were condemned by the fire marshal's office during May.

With brocoli planting at its height, Umpqua valley growers are finding a great deal of difficulty in getting plants.

Roy A. Klein has been made permanent chief engineer of the highway department by the state highway commission.

The Southern Pacific company has a surplus of 881 cars according to a report received by the public service commission.

The Tri-County Bankers' association of Hood River, Wasco and Sherman counties met in Wasco with thirty-four present.

The Roseburg city council has voted an emergency sum of $250 to start the campaign against earwigs which have invaded the city.

With the rainy season at an end, fire lookouts have been ordered to all high mountain stations within the Deschutes national forest.

Hundreds of tons of rapidly ripening loganberries in the Salem district will probably be left to decay unless market conditions are improved.

The city and commercial club of Bay City has protested to the public service commission against a proposed raise in rates by the Bay City Water company.

The city of Perrydale has requested the state public service commission to help with the restoration of a regular passenger, express and mail service in that town.

Despite unfavorable weather during the greater part of the month, the June tourist movement through Bend has been considerably in excess of that of last year.

Don C. Mote, entomologist of the Arizona state department of agriculture, has been appointed associate professor of entomology at the Oregon Agricultural college.

The highway between Coos county and the Pacific highway near Roseburg is now open to travel for the entire distance with the Camas mountain detour eliminated.

The new cannery in Eagle valley, Baker county, has begun operations. It is expected the plant will furnish a market for produce which in the past has been a loss to the farmers.

The Bend woolen mills, the city's newest industry, started operation last week. Sixteen knitting machines are installed and the payroll, to start with, is for 30 persons—mostly women.

Fruit growers of Imbler have begun the thinning of the apple crop in earnest and from all indications a bumper crop is assured. The output this year is expected to exceed 400 carloads.

A special election will be held in Oak Lodge water district in Clackamas county August 2, when voters of the district will decide an issue of $200,000 bonds for a water system.

Suit to cancel all special road taxes in six districts in Lane county in which Starret & Hovey of Detroit, Mich., own timber lands was instituted by this firm in circuit court at Eugene.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new $50,000 boys' dormitory at the Chemawa Indian school and the building will be ready for occupancy at the time for opening of school next fall.

The Tokay grape crop of Josephine county promises to be as great as that of last year. The vines are full of the green fruit and the weather has been exceptionally good this spring for grapes.

Approximately 1500 Oregon cars and 1000 foreign cars are inspected each week at Baker in order to keep the alfalfa weevil pest from coming in from the infested districts of Idaho and the Snake river.

Herman Zimmerman, a well known miner of the various camps in Baker county, was instantly killed in the underground workings of the Homestead-Iron-Dyke mine at Homestead by being struck on the head by a falling 75-pound boulder.

The million-dollar sawmill built three years ago by the Alsea River Lumber company of Eugene at Clatskanie, in Clatskanie county, and which has never been operated on account of financial difficulties, will be started up within the next few weeks, according to Henry Fischer, receiver.

Archbishop Coming In Special Car

To Dedicate Catholic Church—Public Dinner After Ceremony

Next Sunday, July 8th, Archbishop Christie will arrive at Vernonia in a special train supplied by the railway company. Assisted by several of the clergy, he will dedicate the Catholic church. The Archbishop is a renowned orator. The ceremony will commence at 10:30. All the people of Vernonia and the Nehalem valley are invited to witness the ceremony and hear the eloquent Archbishop. A number of Portland people will arrive on the train with the Archbishop. The event has been advertised in the Portland papers. Father Clancy of the local church is a booster for Vernonia.

The Old Mill

The large new fireproof 100 foot building of the Lyle Bros. is going up rapidly. When finished in about a week, it will be one of the modern billiard parlors of the valley. The business will be known as "The Old Mill" and as a popular mens resort will undoubtedly be popular in this part of the state. They will announce their opening in these columns later.

For convenience of shipper as well as railroad, the P. A. & P. has established four new flag stations. Three between here and Keasey named Pointer, Homewood and Tars. One at Trehern. The stations are established although it will be about ten days before the rate cards are made up and the tariffs in effect.

Hillsboro had a crowd. They put on a dandy celebration for three days. A good number from Vernonia were present on account of our ball team playing there. In the good game Coyle struck out 7 men and Vernonia 2 men; Coyle pitched 7½ innings and Vernonia 1½, and they had perfect field support. Clarence Coyle hit a home run, and the ball is going yet.

POLLYANNA COLYUM

A little nonsense Now and then is relished by the Best of men—and women.

POLLY is Among Friends

When there are four balls you take your base, but when there are three balls you take your watch.

A normal wife is one who thinks her husband is working too hard and not getting enough for it.

When the small boy was asked which he liked best, Summer or Winter, he replied, "Spring."

One kind word while you can hear it, beats a brass band on your last ride, aptly says Walt Coyle.

Our idea of a strong minded man is one who jumps out of bed at the first tingling of the alarm clock. And he doesn't crawl back again after shutting the darn thing off.

The cheapest way to enjoy the countryside in summer, is to let a few automobile agents know that you are thinking of buying.

Life is just a slow and painful process of getting out of trouble, thinks a City Councilman.

It will not be long now until you meet a surprisingly large number of people who like winter better than summer, says Noble Dunlap.

More houses, tents, barns and more men and teams and machinery arrive every week on the works at the big mill location. Industry and business is indeed rushing with them.
