U. S. EXPERTS LEAD WAR ON FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

This is Dr. U. G. Houck of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry, (left) who has been placed by Secretary Wallace in complete command of the fight being effectively waged on the foot and mouth disease outbreak in California, and G. H. Hecke, director Department of Agriculture, State of California, who is assisting Dr. Houck in quickly and permanently stamping out the epidemic.

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—The full force of the United States government has been brought into play effectively against the foot and mouth disease in California. The disease has been confined to certain limited districts in the state and the work of stamping it out is proceeding rigorously under the direction of Dr. U. G. Houck, personal representative of Secretary Wallace, department of agriculture, who has complete control of the combined federal and state forces.

"Every method justified by our past experience and by scientific study is being used to prevent any possibility of spread of the disease and to wipe it out so thoroughly that there will be no chance of its recurrence," said Dr. Houck. "There is no danger of spread of the disease through shipment of fruits, vegetables or dairy products from the great non-infected areas of California. We know of no instance where the disease has been carried by such shipments," Dr. Houck said.

SCHOOLS TO TEACH KINDNESS

Oregon was the first state to make teaching of kindness to animals compulsory in the public schools, from 15 minutes to half hour each week in the school year by all public school teachers.

A new course of study has been prepared for each of the eight grades, with supplementary reading and story telling on important points for children in the general program of humane education and care of animals. The new course of study will be printed and got out in time for the opening of schools all over the state this fall. The Oregon law is much sought after by other states.

POWER OFF—We have splendid luck with our successful light & power plant. In fact we never seen better service. But Wednesday the juice was off most of the day, just when we wanted it of course. Our paper shows a lost day, as we can't work our line-type without juice, nor will our presses run when the electricity is off. We can't help it.

Mr. and Mrs. Purcell Kline left Monday for Coquille, Oregon.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Kidney disease is one of the most insidious and dangerous. Dangerous because its presence is very often not even suspected until it has attained a firm hold. If the kidneys function normally, all is well, as the proper functioning of these organs is essential to the maintenance of health in the whole body.

Let your chiropractor relieve the Nerve Pressure by giving you Chiropractic Vertebral Adjustments. The kidneys will then function normally and the result will be healthy. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free
