PSALM OF LIFE

(With apologies to Longfellow, by an Ckknown)
Tell me not in mournful numbers Advertising is a dream,
For the business man who slumbers Has no chance to skim the cream.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
Competition's something fierce,
If for the dividends thou earnest, Learn to pary, thrust, and pierce.

In the business field of battle Mollycoddles have no place;
Be not like dumb, driven cattle
Be a live one in the race.

Lives of great men all remind us,
We can bring the bacon home,
And departing leave behind us, Footprints on another's dome.

Let us then be up and doing, Otherwise we may be done;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Advertise and get the mon.

THE POTATO'S RIVAL

If there's a single soul in Milwaukie or for many thousand miles around who doesn't like potatoes in some form or another let him now speak or forever hold his peace. The fact that the potato has so many friends an item in a southern paper of interest, the item being to the effect that attempts are being made to introduce into this country an oriental vegetable known as the "dasheen," a rival of the Irish potato. The south has to import the bulk of its potatoes from the north and since the "dashien" is said to grow profusely in southern soil there are many who will welcome its appearance and who will find a place for it in their garden. It will also be favorably received by other sections, since people are always anxious to greet a new kind of food. But when it comes to replacing the potato in the heart of American citizens—there's nothing doing.—Milwaukee Review.

BOOSTING FOR YOUR TOWN

Of course you are boosting for your town. Of course you are supporting the industries of your town.
At least you think you are. But did you ever stop to consider what genuine support means?
When you see a neighbor of yours going to the bigger cities to purchase what can be bought of your local merchants is there a feeling that you should step up to him and tell him that that is not the proper thing to do.

Before you went to town to pick out that new hat or suit of clothes or pair of shoes you saw advertised so lavishly did you go to your home town merchant to see whether he had something just as suitable at practically the same price?

Are you sure in your own mind that you have conscientiously marketed in your own town before going to a bigger town to buy that cheap piece of meat or that package of cereal?

When you furnished your new house did you go to your local dealer and ask him whether he could furnish it at a price satisfactory to you?

And, Mr. Businessman, are you supporting your home town when you do not give the people of your community notices of the things that you have to sell and the prices you are charging.—Beaverton Review.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Ok., Board of Commerce

That many cities that have been handed a "knock-out" are coming back?

That many citizens that have been hrowing "brickbats" are now "Standing By?"

That the future of some cities is now assured, because their citizens are united in their faith in its future and they are "Standing By?"

That they now realize that to boost is to build, to knock is to tear down,
and they are "Standing By?"

That they are united in a board spirit of "Build Our City" and they are "Standing By?"

That they have made up their minds that the natural resources of their section shall be developed to its fullness extent, and they are "Standing By?"

That they realize that their money spent in their own home city helps themselves and helps their city, and they are "Standing By?"

They Realize That They Must Sink Or Swim With Their city, They Intend To Swim And They Are
"Standing By?"

Mrs. Maud Moore and daughter Eileen are here from Missoula Montana visiting her daughter Mrs. Ov-illa Daust and family.
