EAGLE FEATHERS

So far none of the photographers of President Coolidge has caught him with his mouth open.

Some of the motorists are assisting the highway marking movement by running into the trees and marking them with deep scars.

Limited parking is called for in many cities, and it would relieve the minds of many parents to have limited sparking also.

They shouldn't put so many eating places along the automobile roads that it will give you indigestion to look at them.

The schoolboys who are complained of for being late to school may remark they need an automobile to get there on time.

Nearly a billion dollars was lost in worthless stocks the past year, but anyway the loser had the fun of thinking how much money they were going to make.

Some people are very indignant at the idea that the human race is descended from the monkey, but there is much evidence that many were descended from the mule.

There are a large number of men who would consent to officiate as bridegrooms at the October Weddings, if they could find wives who would support them.

The thunderous applause at the campaign rallies may not prove that the people are enthusiastic, so much as that many people have big hands and feet.

The noise at the county fair dinners is a cheerful sound, unless it means that the people are eating so fast that they have loosened up their false teeth.

A chap was arrested for assault and battery and brought before the judge Judge (to prisoner): "What is your name, your occupation and what are you charged with?"
Prisoner: "My name is Sparks, I am an electrician, and I am charged with battery."
Judge: "Officer, put this guy in a dry cell."
—The Manufacturer.

The man who dosen't believe in signs had better try to drive an automobile.

Many business concerns wonder why people seldom enter their places of business. They seem to overlook the fact that it will take persistent advertising to steer the crowds their way.

The business hat does not advertise is usually out of the sight and mind of the people.

There is a steady increasing demand for advertised goods. Stores that advertise supply that demand.

For people to rely appreciate advertised merchandise, they must examine them closely. The more they examine them, the more they will like them.

In fairness to the business concerns who are enterprising enough to give the service of advertising, their goods should be given a trial first.

Advertising satisfaction giving goods is what is giving the modern business concerns such a steady growth.

It always pays to buy the winners.
Advertised goods are winners.
