SYMPATHETIC VOTERS

Government can't be efficient so long as we elect men to office because they can't make a living.

Public employment bureau placements in Oregon during the current biennium numbered 80,235, according to the biennial report of C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner.

The contract for completion of cruising timber in Tillamook county by M. G. Nease was signed by Nease and the county court last week. The contract specifies not less than 100,000 acres to be cruised at 25 cents an acre, the cruise to be completed before March 31, 1926.

Figures just released by the forest service showed that in 1923 Oregon was second in lumber production with a total of 3,966,083,000 feet. The only other state ahead was Washington, with 6,877,656,000 feet. Production in Oregon increased 31 per cent over the previous year.

The Oregon supreme court, in an opinion handed down has reversed Judge Campbell of the Clackamas county circuit court in the case involving Samuel Director, accused of larceny in connection with the alleged burning of his store at Oregon City. A retrial will be held.

How to dodge automobiles will be a new course of instruction at the Parrish Jr. high school in Salem, according to announcement made by school officials. The Parrish school is located on the route of the Pacific highway and has been the scene of several near accidents.

Restaurants, hotels and manufacturing concerns of Roseburg dependent upon gas for conducting their business were sadly crippled when the gas plant froze Friday morning. The gas mains were completely filled with ice, shutting off the entire supply to the city for several hours.

Any further action that may be taken by Governor Pierce with relation to the ousting of Dr. Thomas Ross of Portland as a member of the state fish commission probably will depend upon a recommendation to be solicited from the attorney-general. This was announced by the governor.

Fines aggregating $69,266.85 were imposed by the courts in Oregon as the result of activities of the state traffic officers during the current biennium, according to the biennial report of T. A. Raffety, chief inspector for the state motor vehicle department. Arrests numbered 3968.

Four boys who escaped from the state training school were captured by the police while hiding in a dwelling on Front street in Salem. The boys involved in the break were John Moore, Archie Evans, E. Kline and J. Richter. They spent one night in the open and two of them suffered from frozen feet.

OWNED BY PEOPLE WHO LIVE IN VERNONIA

HERE'S SUCCESS TO THEM

No section of the city is immuned. From Dock Cole's new home to J. P. Mac's corner and from Josh Roses house to G. R. Watts' neighborhood, and up Vernonia Heights from "our" house to top of Corey's hill. Yes every neighborhood has been hearing strange noises. Low and mournful at times; ghosts-line, shrieking from a high squeal to a low base groan. It warbles at times, it sighs at times and at times one distinctly recognizes musical notes like a far-away radio set. We have been suspecting various houses and enquiring of neighbors who own cats, if they can account for the musical notes or frequently heard day and night. The mystery, at last, has been solved, and it is more important than at first imagined. It's a band we have, thank you, and the 20 some active members are practicing long and often. It's a big, all Vernonia Band, organized with new instruments, suits and all the fix-in's. And, more important yet, we are informed that spring regular concerts will be given early this spring.

SPEAKING OF LOYALTY

If all of the people in a town were as loyal to the town as the editor of the old home newspaper that a wonderful difference it would make. Mail order houses would be known only in history. The editor is always up an doing, never ceasing, even if at times he gets little or no encouragement. He leaves unsaid that which might cast reflections on the town, and emphasizes the good things. He is a booster for better schools and churches, civic pride and the best citizenship. He is forever telling of the live business men; that they carry a larger, better class of goods and sell them cheaper than any other place on earth. He favors good roads so that the people may get to town to patronize the home merchants. He is in favor of public improvements of whatever nature will help to make the old home town a more desirable place in which to live. Is there any person who tries to be of more benefit to the town than the newspaper man? If there is, name him.

MISNAMED

A little nonsense may be all right now and then, but why should it be called modern poetry.
