MAY IDENTIFY TOMB
WHERE SAVIOR LAY

Discovery of Shrine Stone Is Important.

A discovery, which may prove of far-reaching importance, has been made near the entrance to the Garden tomb, outside the Damascus gate of Jerusalem. Some loose stones were being removed from the ground in front of the entrance of the tomb in the process of tidying up the garden, when one of them attracted the attention of Miss Hussey, who is in charge of the tomb, owing to the fact that it had markings upon it. She had it removed, partly cleaned it, and reported the find to the government department of antiquities.

A few days after its discovery it was viewed by Professor Brandenburg, who was commissioned by the Berlin Society of Palestinian Research to investigate the rock tombs of Palestine a year ago, and whose reputation as an authority on rock architecture in the Mediterranean is admittedly high.
He immediately, and without hesitation, identified it as "a shrine of the goddess Cybele or Aphrodite (Venus), with the column and tree of Adonis or Attys beside it," declaring that such shrines were found in temples of Venus. A more careful cleansing of the stone further indorsed his first impression, for it clearly revealed the fruit on the tree.

The importance of this discovery, if the identification be correct, as seems

Shrine Stone Found at the Garden Tomb.

probable, lies not so much in itself as in its association with the Garden tomb. This tomb is regarded by many as perhaps the very tomb of the Resurrection. It is a fact of history that in A. D. 135, when, on the suppression of the revolt of the self-styled Messiah, Barchocheba, the second and more complete Roman destruction of Jerusalem took place, the Emperor Hadrian built a new Roman city, named Aelia Capitolina, on the ruins, and, among other things, erected a temple of Venus over the Tomb of the Resurrection, with the purpose of completely desecrating it. It is evident, therefore, that in seeking to identify the Tomb of the resurrection we may expect to find traces of this temple.

If the identification of this stone as a shrine of Venus is finally established, it will naturally follow that the definite identification of the remains of a Temple of Venus over a large Jewish tomb of the period, which otherwise bears out all descriptions of the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, must naturally carry with it a strong presumption that that tomb may indeed be no other than that of the Resurrection itself. This stone may thus be found to be another important link in the chain of identification.

Sunrise Service

The Easter morning service in the Hollywood bowl, at Hollywood, Calif., begins just as the sun rises. The cross is formed by a chorus of 500 tiny children. The great community orchestra is at the left of the platform behind a bank of lilies. Thousands attend the service.

Crucifixion's Lesson

On the first Good Friday afternoon was completed that great act by which light conquered darkness and goodness conquered sin. That is the wonder of our Savior's crucifixion.— Phillips Brooks.
