

EAGLE FEATHERS

The pioneer who blazed a trail through the wilderness to build a home now has a grandson looking for 150 acres to build a golf-course.

The Vernonia boy who wishes his folks could own two autos is usually silent about wishing they were able to own two garden hoes.

Some people manage to get by with an oily tongue, but the surest dependence is elbow grease.

We wonder which muscle President Coolidge's electric hobby horse exercises that a flivver wouldn't reach.

About all the use some Vernonia citizens have for the Golden Rule is to measure other people by it.

We don't know who lost the war but it seems to England that hunting for it.

New York doctors found a sewing needle in a girl's arm. But a New York detective couldn't find a sewing needle in one of them's hand.

Once it was the lightning rod agent that tapped at doors around Vernonia but now it's the smiling agent with the radio all ready to set up.

The record of the Sixty-Third Congress can be written in this way: "1923, sworn in; 1925, cussed out."

What this country really needs for the benefit of everybody is a scheme to boost the price of wheat and at the same time bring down the price of flour.

A London professor says the world will be inhabited for the next 20,000,000 years. As far as we know that will be perfectly satisfactory to everyone around.

The proposed child-labor law would prevent Willie from turning the grindstone, but it wouldn't get Dad's nose any further away from it.

France is still a good friend of ours. She's willing to fight for the last dollar we've got.

We suppose that the rate things are going it won't be unusual along about 1976 to hear a Vernonia man say about a neighbor: "No his wife, won't work so the poor fellow has to take in washing."

TELL IT TO THEM

Next time you hear a citizen of Vernonia yelping about a typographical error in his home paper, just hand him these few figures to stop his tongue:

In an ordinary column there are 10,000 pieces of type; there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter; there are 70,000 changes to make an error, and millions of possible transpositions. In this one sentence, "To be orn to be" by transpositions alone, it as been figured out 2,759,022 errors can be made. Newspaper people, from the 'devil' up to the boss, and other high officials, are merely human, and liable to err. Don't be nosing around for errors, but read for the information you can get. You'll find errors enough in your daily walk through life without having to hunt for them in a newspaper.

WE HOPE IT'S TRUE

The other day we read a little news item that had been cabled over from London which should be spread across the front page of every paper in the world—if it proves to be true. It states that British physicians and chemists working together have succeeded in perfecting a vaccine known as "toxin anti-toxin" which, it is claimed, prevents those vaccinated with it from contracting the flu, diphtheria, infantile paralysis or whooping cough. There is no end to the possibilities of medical science, and no reason to doubt but these men may have discovered something that will prove a blessing to the whole world for all time to come. If they have there should be erected at some suitable spot the greatest monument ever built. And we're ready to pledge the support of Vernonia citizens right now in any movement to reward these men, as long as they live.

PUTTING ON OLD SHOES

The other day a fellow said to me, "One of your shoes fits me alright, but I am not going to put it on." He was a wise fellow. The chump who is eternally thinking somebody is looking at him with suspicion is always in warm water. I have lost hundreds of friends by them simply putting on shoes not thrown at them. They were intended for nobody in particular but the guilty flee when no man pursues. We get the idea into our heads that we are attracting a lot more attention than we are. We imagine that because our left ear burns a little somebody is talking about us. That's a myth as groundless as the Easter rain theory. Nobody is talking about us and no body is even thinking about us, unless perchance, we happen to be a little slow in settling up some of our accounts. If you are fair with your neighbors you won't try on every old shoe you happen to run across in your daily wanderings. You will have no time to even think about it. The funny thing about this old shoe business is that the fellow for whom it was intended seldom gets a chance to try it on. Some other fellow always beats him to it. The fellow who is shot at seldom tumbles, and if he does, he is too smart to howl about it.—Ex.

The West is the Mecca of men of vision,

THEY FELL in love with the West . . . can you blame them?

Akron tire engineers with records of success running back a quarter century, knew the future held much in the East.

Yet when the West won them, they gladly transferred their training, skill and resources to the Pacific Coast.

Today C-T-C tires bear testimony to this pioneer move! Thousands of motorists in nine Western states have discovered that C-T-C engineers have put something into these tires that makes them outrun others. Some call it "stamina"; some "quality". Others declare that the very training and skill of the engineers is embodied in every tread and ply.

We shall be glad to give you expert information about your tires, and — if you need them — put on C-T-C's — either balloons, semi-balloons, heavy-duty cords or oversize cords!

Cities That Progress

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

—By—

E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Chamber of Commerce.

THAT progressive cities are on the threshold of the greatest development in their history. Every indication points to an era of progress and prosperity for them, which has had no counterpart in the past.

THAT the names of those cities are not easily forgotten. Where ever they are named, people stop to listen. It calls to their minds a collection of thoughts about great cities in the making.

THAT hospitality is the joy and spirit of those cities. They are laying the ground-work for a great future, and this spirit is attracting the attention of the world.

THAT progressive cities of today are coming into their own. The results their citizens achieve in their great development will be great because they depend upon the great vision they possess and the great energy they have to carry noteworthy and well devised plans to a successful conclusion.
