NATAL

Between thirty five and forty of the people around Natal and Mist vacationed at the different beaches over the week-end.

Mrs. Neurte and daughter Leona The McMullen girls, Marjorie Mathews and Myrtle Talor went huckle berry picking on the Clatskanie mountain Tuesday.

The Henderson family is visiting at the Asborne home.

Mrs. Iler's sister and granddaughter are visiting with her for a while.

Mrs. Holding and two children spent two weeks with relatives and friends in Portland and Gresham. While in Portland they enjoyed a trip to Mt. Hood and also camping near the little White Salmon river. They also visited other places of interest and report a very enjoyable time.

Upper Nehalem

The fire at the Sunset camp is still burning and at this time has burnt three donkeys belonging to the logging concern.

John Hubbert of the Sunset camp has just completed a nice little new cottage.

Mrs. Florence Shook and two daughters, motored over from Newburg to pick berries and spend the week-end with her brother and family.

A. F. Orduff is about finished in getting out poles and is now going to take a week's vacation at the coast, planning on going to Newport.

Mrs. White of Buxton, mother of Mrs. Pearl Watson, died in the Forest Grove hospital.

Peet Ornduff, while picking berries recently, slipped and badly sprained his leg and is now layed up for a few days.

Picked Up About Town

Ever notice that all "self-made" men seem to run with the muffler wide open?

Sam Conklin says that another inducement for the men to go straight these days is the accuracy that women show when they shoot at their husbands.

Who can remember the good old days when young married women, meeting on the streets, talked about babies instead of bobs?

"Father and mother didn't have to have a horse and buggy before they got married," comments Lloyd Thomas, "but it's hard these days to get a girl to accept a fellow who hasn't got a car."

The country roads are now about as thick with flivvers as they used to be with dust.

"I can easily remember," says Wm. VanDoren, "when about the only engine trouble we ever heard of was caused by open switches, spreading rails and washouts."

Trains are far safer now than they used to be even if there are no red flannel petticoats to flag them with.

Just around the Corner

EVEN big-city folks must have their "neighborhood stores"! Most of them would no more think of going down town to fight their way through the crowds in search of a roast for dinner than they would of walking to the factory to get a pair of shoes.

City women know that their neighborhood stores can supply them just what they want — and that, in most cases, the service is more alert and friendly.

The same thing is true of this "neighborhood". Our merchants—the men whose ads you read in this paper — are in position to furnish your home with the best and most popular brands of goods. Not only can they save you money, but they gladly relieve you of a lot of worry and loss of time.
