MOVIE NEWS AND COMMENT OF LOCAL FEATURES

As the rains come and the power is better and the evenings are longer, the pictures grow better. We had the pleasure of seeing some exceptional good shows the past week at the Majestic theatre. The weeks bookings beginning tomorrow contain excellent offerings. For this Saturday night we notice is "Never Say Die" he was scared to death at the woman with Douglas McLean, who acts like

For Sunday night a romantic love story "Compromise" offers all the scenes of romance, love and thrills one would wish. On Monday night next is "The Bloodhound" A story of the Royal Mounted Police in Canada. On next Tuesday and Wednesday nights we will be pleased to see Marie Prevost again with other noted stars in the roaring comedy, "Seven Sinners."

Next Thursday and Friday is the special picture, Rin Tin Tin in "Tracked in the Snow Country."

LIBRARY NOTICE

In order to accomodate the school children, the hours of the Vernonia public library have been changed. On Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, the library is open from 3 until 5 and on Tuesday evening from 7 until 8:30.

Please do NOT ask anyone but the librarian to loan and receive books. The Vernonia library is independent of other activities at the city hall. It is impossible for the library to be open all day, so remember the hours and come during that time.

The library is glad to announce that new fiction has been put on the pay shelf. These books are loaned for one week and a fee of 5 cents is charged for each week.

The library has had the Salem traveling books for almost six months. It is now time to exchange them for different ones. So please, be sure to return all Salem books by November 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. White were Portland visitors Tuesday.

Tomorrow is Halloween. Hope the Vernonia boys will be gentlemanly in their pranks.

The K. P. lodge, Harding lodge of Vernonia, held "open house" to the members and their wives last Monday night. After the social part of the evening, refreshments were served and all indulged in talk concerning the possibilities of organizing a Pythian Sisters lodge here.

Al Leach was visiting friends in Vernonia this week from Dille.

KIST

Clark Beames of Dudley, Idaho, visited with his sister, Emma Rainwater last week. He was accompanied by his wife and sons Clarence and Earl and two daughters, Ruth and Dorothy. They motored out by auto and reported a fine trip. He has not met his sister for 50 years, and this visit is making a very happy reunion. They visited at Banks and at the old home near Greenle. Mr. Beames was greatly impressed at the change in the Nehalem valley.

Rev. Everett preached at the Kist school house last Monday, to a fair attendance.

Mrs. Anderson returned home one day recently from Centerville much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jones visited with Mrs. Jones parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rainwater last week.

Theodore Anderson is on the sick list this week.

Roy Jones, who was hurt at the Sunset camp, is able to go back to work again.

There will be a Halloween party at the old school house at Gilber mills Halloween E. C.

Neta Ohler was visiting at Mrs. Martin Rainwater last week.

PROFITABLE FOR SON

A group of farmers were talking at the village store and one of them asked: "Do you think it pays to keep poultry?"

"Well, no. I can't say that I do," was the answer, "but I'm sure it pays my son Jim."

"How's that," asked another man. "Well, you see, I bought him the fowls I have to furnish the food; I buy the eggs from him and he eats them."—Farm Life.

A pint of liquor, an auto and another man's wife make up a combination that is always good for either an editorial or an obituary notice.—Roanoke Times.

Money Saving Skaggs Cash Stores

The Origin and Operation of Skaggs Store

A few days ago a lady called us on the phone to say that she had decided not to trade at Skaggs Stores any more. She gave as her reason that she frequently passed Skaggs Stores at night and often noticed the men working overtime and she did not think it fair that they be required to do so. This and similar occurrences denoting a customer's interest and possible misconception has impelled us to write a series of short articles dealing with the origin, ownership and operation of Skaggs Stores and publish them opposite our weekly ad.

Such questions as:
"Why Our Men Work Overtime"
"Who Owns Skaggs Stores"
"How Much Profit We make."
"Where The Profits Go."
"How Skaggs Ideals Have Served To Make An Interesting and Profitable Game Out of a Common and Lowly Vocation."
"How and Why Mass Effort Properly Harnessed to Productive Policies Can and Does Excel in Accomplishment."

and many other interesting angles, which will portray the human interest and business romance of modern co-operative big business.
