

ONE CORNER OF VERNONIA

In the foreground can be seen the Nehalem and the Vernonia hotel, with the Odd Fellows lodge hall, looming in the back ground on the right hand side of the picture. This part of the town is on the east side, comprising residents of the citizens, who are both employed in the mill and in the business district of the city. Also in this part of the city is the outlet that leads from Vernonia going to Keasey, located ten miles east. Within a comparatively short time this part of the city rose from practically no houses to the largest home part of Vernonia.

VERNONIA'S FAST GROWING POSTOFFICE

In a couple of years, Vernonia's postal business has grown by leaps and bounds. A big wagon load of mail arrives daily. Postmaster Messing, who has been postmaster for the past few years, was crowded out of the former small building, and erected the present postal home which is better able to handle the big business. Two clerks and several substitutes assist in the daily task.

ADEQUATE PROOF

Isn't it funny. A ruse is a blind, a blind is a shade, a shade is a shadow, a shadow is a ghost, a ghost is a shade, a shade is a color, a color is paint and paint is rouge. Therefore, by Euclid, axiom one, rouge must be a ruse. And curiously enough it is true.—Yale Record.

A HUSBAND-LESS CLUB

"Hello, is my husband at the club?" No, lady, your husband isn't here. "But how do you know? I haven't even told you my name." "Say, lady, there ain't nobody's husband ever here."

City Boy (looking at his first windmill)—"Gee, Uncle Tom, that's some electric fan you have out there cooling the cows."

SAFETY FIRST.

A fifteen-year-old girl of Detroit has written these slogans for automobilists:

"Drive right and more pedestrians will be left."

"Watch your step on it."

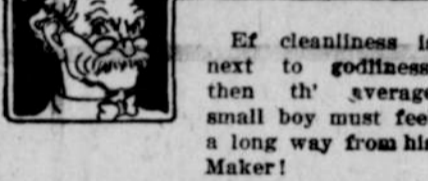

"Six feet have awaited many a driver who wouldn't give an inch."

"Just because you see its tracks, is no sign that a train has just passed."

WE HAVE SOME.

Some men we know get up and go Soon as they're through eatin'; They say: "You see, we're busy, so Can't bother 'bout no meetin'."

The things you think you get for nothing cost more than those you think you pay for. About the first real sign of winter is when you start wondering why in the world you cursed summer.

PIPE LINE OF VERNONIA LIGHT & POWER PLANT

This picture is the pipe line carrying water from the dam of the Vernonia Light & Power company, located one mile from Keasey. The pipe line from the dam to the power house is 2650 feet and is four feet in diameter. The power house itself is made in an "L" shape of reinforced concrete, 25 feet square. The dam supplying the water is 20 feet high and 60 feet long, also made out reinforced concrete. The water being secured from Rock Creek. The turbine of the plant is rated at 350 horsepower. 30 per cent of the capacity of the plant is now being used at this time but the output could be increased to twice its output at the present time. George R. King, with the help of little "Teddy" the watchful dog are in charge of the generating plant.
