MOVIE NEWS AND COMMENT OF LOCAL FEATURES

The coming weeks attractions are going to start this Saturday night with a Warner Bros. production. This speaks volumes as Warner pictures are known as always good. This one is "The Sap". You will like it Everybody that has seen it likes it. It is a war picture playing up a sap who was supposed to be a coward a young fellow that everybody picked on. He is a 'fraud cat who becomes a hero. You will say that you never seen anything finer, more human or more appealing. Kenneth Harlan in "The Sap" is surely good at the part.

"A Square Deal Jeweler"

For this coming Sunday night is a big special, a picture you have heard a whole lot about and read a lot about. The wonder of this picture is how do they do it. It is the magnificent production "The Sea Beast" with John Barrymore. Some say the mightiest picture ever produced. John Barrymore, returning to the screen after his international success as "Hamlet" on the stage, has apparently found the finest vehicle of his screen career in "The Sea Beast." This adaptation of Herman Melville's "Moby Dick" is said to rank with "The Covered Wagon" in importance as a contribution to American history, and to be a picture that contains more thrills than a dozen ordinary shockers. "The Sea Beast" is a story of the whalers of 1840. Most of the scenes including a terrific storm, were filmed at sea. Others in Java. It is a spectacular picture with a mighty story of romantic adventure.

Then for next Monday night is a good picture that will be a winner for a Vernonia audience. It is "Lightin'." This is purely a picture of action all the way through. It introduces Pete Morrison and his wonder horse. It is full of hair breath escapes, fast riding, good fast drama, love, romance and plenty of adventure.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday nights will be our favorite Johnny Hines in "Rainbow Riley." The story they sent him after, and the story he came back with were two entirely different matters. It was a nice little quiet feud till Johnny got started—then—whoopee. The old Kentucky stills were still no more—they began yelling like loud speakers for Johnny Hines. All the natives were on a laughing jag. It got so bad four ancient moonshiners with hysterical hangovers came out of hiding and kissed a revenue officer.

For next Thursday and Friday many will be delighted to learn that Mr. Bush has succeeded in securing "The Still Alarm." This is heralded as a thousand times more thrilling than the great stage success showed it. From advance reading it is the most exciting of all pictures. Despairing, desperate fire crazed people penned in that blazing inferno—praying—imploping for help—distant clang clanging of the near fire engines. The rush and rumble of men's voices as they link hose to water main—the mad dash of the smoke-eaters, hacking, hewing and climbing their heroic way to the fear mad humans teetering on the edge of a terrible death, while the blanching crowd within the fire lines below holds its breath in a lifetime of fear and hope. Here is realism, thrills, suspense and the romance of Dick Fay—fireman and father who finds his own daughter—lost to him for seventeen years trapped in a cauldron of flame, while the man who has wronged her lies fainting and fire choked in his arms.

UNITED STATES LEADS IN IMPROVED ROADS

The great increase in use of motor cars and trucks on country roads and city streets, with constant demand for paved thoroughfares, has brought about a growth of nearly 150 per cent since 1919, in yardage of asphalt paving laid throughout the country, approximately 140,000,000 square yards being laid last year.

BLOW YOUR HORN

"A hen is not supposed to have much common sense or tact. Yet every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact, A rooster hasn't got a lot of intellect to show. But none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow. The Peacock spreads his tail and squawks. Pigs squeal and robins sing. And even serpents know enough to hiss before they sting. But man, the greatest masterpiece That nature could devise, Will often stop and hesitate Before he'll advertise." Echo

Senator Stanfield Renders Great Service to Oregon

In an address sent to and read before the Portland Advertising Club, Wednesday, April 21, 1926, United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield said:

"When I entered the U. S. Senate, March 4, 1921, agriculture was in dire straits, prices were down, producers were hard up and the banks and loan companies in farming communities were unable to realize on the notes they held. Quick action was necessary to relieve the agricultural distress.

WORKS HARD, WITH GOOD-ING FOR EMERGENCY TARIFF

"After repeated efforts I succeeded, assisted by Senator Gooding of Idaho, in overcoming the objections of Senator Penrose, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, to an emergency tariff on farm products, and on May 27, 1921, the Emergency Tariff Bill became law. This Act placed protective duties on 28 of the principal farm products, including wheat, corn, potatoes, onions, cattle, meat, wool, butter, cheese, milk, apples, cherries and nuts.

STANFIELD COMES TO RESCUE WITH AMENDMENT

"On May 20, 1921, the Stanfield Bill was introduced " to preserve the livestock industry of the United States, to release for commercial agricultural and industrial purposes certain funds of banks, livestock loaning and trust companies, to amend the war finance corporation act, and for other purposes."

"The Stanfield Bill, or its principal provisions, became a law on August 24, 1921, the Senate Committee on Agriculture submitting its main features through Senator McNary as an amendment substituted for the Norris Bill, along with other provisions. Under its terms the War Finance Corporation made advances for agricultural relief amounting to $298,000,000, of which the banks, trust and loan companies of Oregon that serve agriculture received $6,696,000.

DRAFTED INTO RELIEF SERVICE BY TREASURY DEPARTMENT
"As soon as the War Finance Corporation was prepared to function under this law, and at the request of the Treasury Department, I went West, where I spent months assisting and advising with the bankers, thereby enabling them to procure the needed help quickly and before it was too late to save them. Fortunately, very few failed in Oregon in comparison to other states.

FORCED TO KEEP SILENT TO PROTECT THE BANKS

"Much was said about my absence from the Senate during this time, but I was forced to keep silent and go about my work without referring to my absence or mission, because if the people had known why I was in the West and what I was doing, suspicion would have been directed to every bank I entered, and to every banker with whom I talked. Until the banks could turn their frozen paper into liquid assets, my silence was imperative to avoid embarrassment to them and the defeat of the relief needed and sought."

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON SAVING TO INVEST.

"You have talked so much about saving, Aunt Emmy," said Hilda to Aunt Emmy, "that I wonder if you will be kind enough to help Jack and me work out a way to save regularly. We do so want to get ahead. As Jack is getting a little more money this year, we plan to save that and keep right on living on what we got last year. Of course, it is hard to do without a lot of things we might have, but then Jack and I both feel that we don't want to be worried about money, if we have a little reserve fund, we can be prepared for emergencies."

"Bless my heart!" exclaimed Aunt Emmy. "It surely does sound good to hear such sensible talk from a youngster these days! I'll tell you what I think is a good plan for you to follow—open a savings account with a bank that has a thrift department and every week put away a stated sum in your savings account. You will receive interest on this money, you know. Of course you receive only a moderate rate of interest on your savings, so it is a good idea to make a definite investment plan and invest your savings in sound securities that will yield a higher rate of interest.

"Accumulate your money, small sums at a time, in your thrift or savings account. Determine what sum you will use for your initial investment, say, $100 or $500. Save until you have twice that amount. If you decide to begin your investment on $100 save $200, then take $100 and buy a baby bond, or buy a large bond on the installment plan and apply the $100 on the first payment, if you are sure you can save regularly enough to meet the other payments. "Why not use the $200 and then begin all over again, Aunt?" queried Hilda.

"Because you ought to have some money on hand. You don't want to wipe out your whole savings, even for the best sort of investment."

"But how can we know what to invest in?" asked Hilda. "Your bank will help you in that, my dear. Bankers are always glad to advise their customers concerning sound investments."—Anne B. Aymes.

A GOOD TIP

Now is the time to buy purebred livestock. A considerable volume of purebred stock originally intended for breeding purposes has been going to the block because prices for purebreds in many instances have declined practically to the level of those paid for slaughter animals. There is need for purebred livestock on farms and it does not seem right to slaughter animals that could be used to improve the quality of farm herds and flocks.

An exceptionally high producing cow is worth many times the price of a slaughter animal. Not only does such an individual produce more actual milk and butterfat, but the superior production characteristics of such individuals may be passed on through several succeeding generations.

The fact should not be overlooked that purebred livestock is a real necessity. Without such stock, milk and butterfat records and weights of fleeces will decline and uniformity of type and quality will be sacrificed. No improvement can be made without them. Now is the time to sell scrub stock and buy purebreds while the prices are low.—Banker-Farmer.
