Coleman

Radiant Heater

Gas Heat—No Matter Where You Live

The Coleman Radiant Heater is the latest achievement in more than a quarter of a century's experience in manufacturing gasoline lighting and heating devices. It is made by the Coleman Lamp Company, whose gas pressure products have always been recognized as a standard of quality and service.

Here's What It Does:

- 1—Gives you fresh, clean, sun-like warmth, any time, in any room. Radiates a flood of live, glowing heat to every corner.
- 2—Gives you quick heat. Generates in three minutes and starts heating up immediately after lighting.
- 3—Keeps air in circulation by warming first the air near the floor, which is replaced by the cool air above it. This insures a constant, even temperature, which means health and comfort.
- 4—Gives a clean heat without smoke, soot, dirt or ashes. Saves the time, bother and expense of firing the stove or furnace for short periods of the day—saves from one to two tons of coal a year.
- 5—Insures plenty of warmth and comfort in the coldest weather, even with the coal bin empty or the gas line broken.
- 6—Gives you a complete portable heating unit that makes and burns its own gas from any good grade of motor gasoline—no pipes, no hose, no connections.
