

The Majestic

Another film comedy producing team was started on the road to success with the assignment of Mel Brown to direct Reginald Denny in his latest Universal-Jewel success, a corking good farce-comedy entitled "Fast and Furious," which comes to the Majestic theatre Saturday.

For all those who enjoy murder mystery and detective stories, and indeed, we do not, there is a treat coming in "Held by the Law," the Universal-Jewel featuring Marguerite de la Motte and Johnnie Walker. The picture is scheduled at the Majestic theatre here Sunday, and Manager Bush is predicting that it will be one of the most popular presentations of the season.

The old frontier newspaper, born on a flat-bed press and reared under the protection of editorial guns, is revived in "Grinning Guns," Jack Hoxie's latest starring vehicle. It is a Universal Blue Streak Western and is coming to the Majestic theatre Monday.

The number of surprisingly interesting things that can happen in an exclusive Eastern girls' finishing school when a ten-million-dollar heiress innocent but ambitious, from the oil well country of Texas puts in her appearance is shown in Colleen Moore's new picture, "Naughty But Nice." This First National comedy comes to the Majestic theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Conrad Nagel always dreads seeing his pictures! The actor declares that this is one of the most heart-breaking experiences an actor ever goes through, because he always expects more of himself than he actually sees on the screen. Nagel's latest appearance in "Heaven on Earth," which is coming to the Majestic theatre on Thursday and Friday, and is considered one of the finest things he has ever done. The picture was directed by Phil Rosen for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH

The Evangelical church and Sunday school are to hold a picnic in Sheeley's grove Saturday starting from the church at 10 a. m. All are welcome to join in with us.

Thursday evening there will be held a reception by the young people and the church people to the two young couples of the church lately married. And in connection with this will be the organization of the Christian Endeavor society of the Evangelical church. This will be held in the social hall of the church beginning at 8 p. m. You are welcome.

Service at the Evangelical church next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school 9:45 a. m. The pastor Rev. G. W. Plumer will preach at 11 a. m. The subject will be "The White Stone." At 8 p. m. he will have as his theme, "Pitfalls for Youthful Feet."

Accused of "Conspiracy"

Lester Sheeley city attorney, was arrested by Alex Davidson, deputy United States marshal, here Friday on two secret indictments charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act by sale and possession of intoxicating liquor. He furnished bond and appeared in court Saturday and pleaded not guilty. The date of his trial has not been definitely set.

There is considerable doubt in the mind of Mr. Sheeley as to how such charges happened to be preferred. He is certain it is merely spite work on the part of someone for his sentencing a federal stool pigeon to jail when he was acting city recorder here some time ago. It is not expected that anything will come of the trial but such action would cause considerable embarrassment to any city attorney.

Divorce is Granted

Judge Aiken in circuit court at St. Helens Monday, granted a divorce to Mrs. Dora Bushart from C. D. Bushart and restored her former name of Mrs. Dora Washburn. They were married January 23, 1927, and lived together but a short time. Cruel and inhuman treatment was alleged.

Lack of proper thinning and cutting is a common cause of woodland being unprofitable. Trees require sufficient light and soil moisture in order to thrive and be profitable.

Three litters of pigs every two years is a satisfactory average for a good sow. It would probably meet the requirements of most farmers and in the end show the best net profit.

Small or medium weight cabbage is the most desirable market size. Heads of pointed cabbage weighing 1 to 4 pounds and heads of Danish and domestic cabbage weighing 2 to 6 pounds are preferred by receivers.

Milk production per cow increased materially between 1900 and 1925, it is estimated by the United States department of agriculture. The increase is attributed to the growing proportion of strictly dairy type milked and to improved methods of care and feeding.

Fall-sown oats in most districts of the south succeeded better than the spring sown varieties, the most serious obstacle to their production in this section being occasional loss by winterkilling, says the United States department of agriculture. At the department's Arlington Experiment Farm, Rosslyn, Va., strains of the winter turf variety have produced the highest average yields.

Dehorning of calves should be done in the fall after danger of screw worm infestation has passed. Good results are usually obtained, however, if the horns are sawed or clipped off when the calf is about 6 months old. During fly time, pine tar may be used on the wounds to prevent infestation with screw worms or maggots. Calves raised under farm conditions may be successfully dehorned by the application of caustic potash before they reach the age of 10 days.

Cabbage cut when soft immature wilts badly, and when displayed for sale is unattractive. On the other hand, cabbage, not harvested soon enough becomes overripe and necessitates close trimming. Throughout the northern cabbage section the crop is usually allowed to stand until all of it can be harvested at one or two cuttings. Throughout the south and those sections supplying the mid-season market, where the ripening often extends over a long period, two or more cuttings are necessary.

Cottage Cheese in Many Dishes

Few people realize the diversity of uses possible with cottage cheese. It is high in nutritive value, containing some of the constituents of milk except the butterfat, according to the United States department of agriculture. Like milk, it is a source of protein, which is used to build and repair body tissue. In salads, desserts, or cooked dishes, cottage cheese may be used to advantage, and also as a basis for the main dish of a meal.

Most people like plain uncooked cottage cheese. It is especially pleasing in summer and when blended with rich cream and a little salt it is enjoyed by many. It is often eaten with sugar and cream. When cream is lacking, whole milk is used to moisten the cheese and sugar. Not only sweet cream, but sour cream or melted butter added to cottage cheese improves its flavor and increases the food value.

Cottage cheese combines nicely with other things that give variety of flavor. Berries, peaches, or other fresh fruits may be used in this way; also canned fruits, raisins, cut dates, or other fruits, brown sugar, honey, jam or marmalade, or chopepd nuts.

Broken nut meats, chopped pimentos, finely cut green peppers, diced cucumbers, or other crisp vegetables may also be mixed with the cheese. Horseradish, onion juice and parsley make a good combination.

Cottage cheese may be seasoned well, packed into a buttered earthen or enamel dish, chilled, turned out on a platter, and served in slices. Ground sage makes a good seasoning.

Mix with the cheese a small quantity of finely ground leftover ham or corned beef and season the whole with mustard. Serve in slices or turn out the molded cheese on a border of lettuce leaves.

Cottage cheese lends itself especially well to salads. If enough is used the salad may serve as the main dish of the meal. French mayonnaise, or boiled dressings, go well with cheese salad. The cheese may be formed into balls or slices; it may be molded in tiny cups or passed through a pastry tube. Foods that combine well with cottage cheese in salads are crisp, fresh vegetables; cooked or canned vegetables; fresh dried, canned, or preserved fruits; nuts; olives, rice, potatoes. With the last two some highly flavored and bright garnish, like beets, pimentos or green peppers, should be used; and celery, cucumbers, green peppers, crisp lettuce, or cabbage may be added to give succulence. Ground raw carrots and onions combine nicely with cottage cheese.

Cottage cheese may be used as a sandwich filling. All kinds of bread lend themselves well to cottage cheese sandwiches. The cheese may be combined with nuts, grated hard cheese, pimentos, horseradish, chopped or sliced olives, whole or chopped nuts, sliced celery, chives, Spanish onions, raisins, dates, prunes softened by soaking, freshly crushed mint leaves, honey jelly, or marmalade. These additions may be blended with the cheese or may be spread in a layer over it.
