After the gifts were exchanged, refreshments were served and the rest of the afternoon was spent in making bags for the Christmas candy which was provided by the club for the school children.

FARM REMINDERS

Oregon has 170 weekly newspapers, 33 dailies and about 60 magazines, requiring the use of each week of probably four million sheets of paper, 5 tons of ink and the efforts of several thousand persons in their publication.
Apple and pear scab and cherry leaf spot are some of the many diseases that are carried over from year to year in fallen leaves. Many Oregon orchardists and berry growers destroy these disease spores by plowing the leaves just as early as possible, says the experiment station. Rotation of crops gives the same results with field crops.
Contrary to general opinion, cooking garbage for pigs is not only unnecessary but undesirable as it tends to lower the feeding value and distributes the flavor of any unpalatable materials throughout the whole batch. The old Oregon law requiring garbage to be cooked has been changed and the feeding of uncooked garbage is now legal. When feeding garbage however, it is necessary to keep the hogs immunized against cholera by the use of good serum and virus, says the Oregon Experiment Station.

Skating Rink Is Closed For Winter

The Vernonia skating rink has been shut down on account of lack of patronage, and, according to Truman DeLano, proprietor, may not be opened for business again this winter.
Mr. DeLano has been employed in this city for the past few months laying hardwood floors.
More cougar have been killed in Oregon during the past year than in any other period. This is important as it has been found to be a fact that a full grown cougar will kill one deer a week.
It is now the ambition of the state game commission to place the Santiam river on a par with the McKenzie, Deschutes, Umpqua and Rogue river as a fishing stream. During the next two weeks crews of the game commission will be at work planting rainbow trout from the Roaring River hatchery. Both Harold Clifford, state game warden and Matt Ryckman, superintendent of hatcheries have conferred with Dr. A. C. Prill of Seio, chairman of the Santiam Fish and Game association and Dr. H. L. Idleman of Salem, head of the sportsman's organization of Marion county. The fish from the Roaring River hatchery will be taken to Linn and Marion counties and planted under the direction of these two sportsmen and others interested in improving fishing conditions in the Santiam and tributaries. During the last two weeks the "Fish Pullman" has been at work in these counties and it will continue for an equally long period.

BAD JAR LIDS CAUSE LOSS

Many complaints have been received by the horticultural products department at the Oregon State college about the spoiling of home canned fruits, vegetables and meats this year when canned with a certain brand of jar lid. This spoiling is due to defective lids marketed in 1929 says the department and some steps are reported being taken to obtain financial readjustment from the company.
The spoiling is not caused by poor sealing, the college men say but by an unpleasant flavor imparted to the jar contents by the bad lids. The flavor is worst in jars used with the cold pack method.

NEW RULES ADOPTED

Several modifications of the regulations of the Oregon high school Athletic association passed at the December meeting which will affect the choice of teams throughout the country are: the age limit is to be 20 years instead of 21; coaches must be full time teachers in the school and their salary paid by the school; participation in athletic contest between a junior high and a senior high by a junior high student shall be counted as a year's participation in high school athletics; a student, unless he is a freshman, must have attended the school one semester or recently moved into the district; the semester's attendance must amount to five weeks and fights, riots, pilfering or such hostile acts against another member of the association shall result in the automatic and indefinite suspension of the aggressor and the school shall forfeit all games won.

MIST

Mrs. L. B. Eastman was pleasantly surprised Saturday when several of her friends dropped in to help her celebrate her birthday. The day was pleasantly spent in visiting and a social good time. The school pupils were all back on the job this morning after a two weeks vacation.
A real winter scene greeted our eyes this morning when we looked from our window, the ground was white and snow was still falling. It melted quickly.

Uncle Eben

"A boss race," said Uncle Eben, "makes a winner take credit for both smart. Den he proceeds to use his imaginary intellect to spoil his dumb luck."—Washington Star.

Colorful Sails

From Herodotus we learn that some of the sails of early Egyptian vessels were made of papyrus. Beautifully ornamented colored linen sails were early in use.

The Sucker Lists

The ordinary citizen feels a bit relieved when he learns that even men gifted with much business acumen are on "sucker lists."—Des Moines Tribune-Capital.

Golf, Earth, Strength

The ancient Greek, you remember, gained new strength every time he hit the earth. It has that effect on the golfer's language, too.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Compulsion's Result

No human power can force the intricacies of the human mind; compulsion never persuades; it only makes hypocrites.—Fenelon.

Wasted No Words

In a will of 20 words P. A. E. Herstein, West Hartlepool, England, left an estate of more than a half million dollars to his wife.

Wouldn't It?

Nature knows best, but it would be nice if some of these imported insect pests liked dandelions.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Slander's Slimy Trail

Slander, wrote Confucius, soaks into the mind as water into low and marshy places, where it becomes stagnant and offensive.

Words for Speed

Slang is just sport-model language stripped to get more speed with less horse-power.—Buffalo News.

Hope and Youth Akin

Hope will make the young; for Hope and Youth are children of the same mother.—Shelley.

Children's Hymn Writer

Isaac Watts is said to have been the first writer of hymns especially for children.

Had Legislative Record

David Crockett served in the Twentieth, Twenty-first and Twenty-third congresses.

Ambition Fulfilled

At Twyford, England, George Enderby, at the age of seventy, achieved his life's ambition. He utilized his savings of sixty-three years to erect a tombstone to the memory of his mother, buried in the little churchyard. Enderby's mother died when he was seven years old. He decided then that he regularly would bank his savings until he had sufficient to erect the memorial.

Dice Long Known

Dice were known in ancient Greece and their invention is attributed by some to Psemetides in the Thirteenth century B. C. The dice exhumed from Thebes differ in no way from the ivory or bone cubes of today. They had spots ranging from one to six on them and the sum of the spots on the two opposite sides always seven.

Shows Stars' Distance

A parsec is a unit of length used in expressing the distance of stars. One parsec is almost exactly 206,265 times the mean distance of the earth from the sun. A star is at a distance of one parsec from the earth if its annual parallax amounts to one second of arc.

Worth Their Cost

Tradition is not a bad thing. Woe to the activity in which tradition is not the subject of an everlasting and violent struggle. And dignity, purity and wholesomeness are not bad things either. All four are worth fighting for and fighting against.—Arnold Bennett.

Named for Location

A Savonnerie carpet is a kind of fine hand-made, one-piece carpet with a velvet pile, manufactured at the Gobelin establishment in Paris. The name was taken from the former establishment at Chailiot, which had once been a soap factory—Savonnerie.

Rare Tropical Fruit

Botanically, a manesty is known as a philodendron. The taste is similar to both the pineapple and banana. It is brought from Porto Rico and is probably the rarest fruit on the New York market.

Brown Hen's Offering

Not to be outdone by the other parishioners of Little Timberden church, Shoreham, England, who were preparing for a harvest thanksgiving, an old brown hen laid two eggs in the chancel.

Prevent Rugs Slipping

Rugs will not slip or curl if you cut small pieces from an old inner tube and sew one on each of the four corners with strong thread matching the rug color as near as possible.
