

OPEN TO TRAFFIC

Saturday, March 29th

Columbia River Longview Bridge

ADVENTURERS and explorers open new routes, cut new paths, discover new worlds. Constructionists follow and take practical advantage of the opportunities that have created for them.

A VISION has been realized in the completion of the new Columbia River Longview Bridge, which links the great highways of the Pacific Northwest.

For the Opening Day

This Saturday, March 29, the bridge will be free to traffic following the dedication which starts at 2 p. m.
