

Winema High School Notes

Ruth Skaling spent Tuesday night at the Bollinger home.

Cecilia Nordstrom visited Helen Beach Thursday night.

Lois Winslow, a former pupil of this school, is going to school at Newberg this year.

Nola Redmond spent the week end with Cecil Brown at Mist.

The champion ping pong player up to this time is Francis Picarde. Come on, Francis, you're doing fine. Just stay at the top and you're all right.

Helen Beach went fishing Sunday afternoon. Oh Yeah!

Maxine Bollinger and Kenneth Bollinger visited Ruth Skaling Saturday evening.

Last Friday night the upper classmen initiated the freshmen in the high school gym. Many other young folks of the neighborhood were present. Many funny tricks were played on the freshmen, such as walking the plank, riding the goat, pushing negroes across the floor with their noses. After lunch was served the freshmen had to wash the dishes. When the upper classmen decided that the freshmen had been thoroughly initiated the rest of the evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Everyone had a very good time.

WE WONDER:

Why Mr. Bryant said he could not call quadrilles at the party Friday night . . . Why Kenneth, Wesley and Emmanuel went to the store Thursday night (ask the storekeeper at Birkenfeld . . . Why Francis got a hair cut . . . Why the freshmen looked so worn out Monday morning . . . Why Ruth wore the yellow string on her hair . . . Why Lucille looked so forlorn Monday, oh, oh . . . Why Howard wouldn't eat the "chocolate" the upper classmen tried to feed him . . . What Cecilia's and Edith's secret is . . . What was so funny in school Monday . . . Where the negro came from we had in our midst Monday. —H.B.

JOKES

Mrs. Camberg: "My child has a great deal of will power."
Teacher: "Yes. And even more wont power."

Inas: (To Albert, who was driving with one hand) "For goodness sake; use two hands."
Albert: "Can't. Gotta drive with one."

Emmanuel and Howard looking over their joint flower garden. Emmanuel suddenly exclaimed, "Good gracious, Howard, the Duchess of York has lice again."

Mr. Bryant: "But, Francis, the name of the complaint is not 'newmonia.' Surely, you've heard me again and again say 'pneumonia.'"
Francis: "Well, sir, I have; but I didn't like to correct you."

Kenneth: (Who has been promised a visit to the zoo.) "I hope we shall have a better day for it than Noah had."

Lady to our poet, Helen Beach: "I've just been making my side ache over your latest book of poems."
Helen (delighted): "Oh really."

To the Voters of Columbia County from
C. J. Larson
Candidate for
COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Being a farmer, and being busy on the farm trying to make enough to pay my taxes, I have not had time to travel over the county to get personally acquainted with many of the voters, so I take this method of reaching many through the county newspapers. I have lived in this county 26 years and it was my choice for a home after living in several states and looking over Oregon and Washington before locating in this county. If elected I shall endeavor to do my duty and treat all the people alike, regardless of where they are located in the county. I will use my influence to keep the county money in the county as much as possible by giving the county labor to people of the county, and will at all times use my influence for the reduction of taxes where practical. I am not bound to any group by any pre-election promises. Asking your support, I am, very respectfully,
C. J. LARSON.
—Pd. adv.

Did you find it so amusing?"
Lady: "Well, the fact is I went to sleep on the top of it."

Allan to Wesley: "I hear you've taken up golf. What do you go around in?"
Wesley: "Well, usually in a sweater."

Mr. Redmond: "I should like you to have 'good' in your report, and not always 'fair.'"
Buck: "I daresay you would, dad. But, you see, I'm an ordinary boy of ordinary parents, and that's an ordinary report."

As shown in an impartial survey of two groups of children, one drinking raw milk and the other heated or pasteurized milk, made by the
