

ATTRACTIVE EXHIBIT PUT ON SATURDAY

A number of lovely crocheted wool afghans were in evidence as well as a tiny version in pale pink, blue and white for a carriage robe.

Two very lovely examples of hooked rugs also graced the show.

The art exhibit from the grade school pupils of Mrs. Lulah Fullerton attracted much attention. Cut out designs from the little folks, and arrangements of autumn fruits, flowers and foliage done in color or black and white by the older pupils were most attractive and reflected not only fine talent but excellent training as well. We are real glad, by the way, that the grade school board has seen fit to retain art instruction during these trying times. We firmly believe that training a child to appreciate and create beauty is as necessary a preparation for his future happiness and success in life as giving him the fundamentals in the three 'R's.

The Garden club was also represented in the show with a table of small fruits and vegetables and several bouquets of late flowers. Mrs. J. L. Timmons, who arranged the Garden club's exhibit also displayed some attractively canned vegetables of her own.

One of the features that attracted us especially was a home canned food display by Mrs. A. C. Knauss—whole pears in green syrup, halved pears with a red cherry magically remaining in the center of each no matter how you tipped the jar, canner raspberries unbelievably red and firm, canned pickles, preserves, salad fruits, vegetables, fish, all in most tempting form. She also showed a plate of the nicest looking dried fruits we ever saw.

The Harris ranch made a display of rabbit furs in various processes of finishing; namely: the raw fur, tanned fur, and then the finished furs from the White New Zealand and French Silver varieties.

The box of apples offered free to anyone guessing the 13 varieties arranged therein was presented to A. F. Kostur.

Those responsible for the show were Mrs. Dave Marshall, Mrs. Fred Wall, and Mrs. E. A. Green, the committee appointed last spring by the Vernonia Study club which originally sponsored the idea. The Vernonia Grange committee who joined the Study club in the project and had charge of the agricultural exhibits, included Mrs. A. L. Parker, Mrs. Viola Treharne, and A. D. Hall. A number of other men, women and girls assisted the committees in various capacities.

Patsy Jean is the name of the seven and one-half pound daughter who arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parry Monday morning. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bleile and sons of Westfir visited with their many friends here over the weekend. They were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ruhl.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Finnerty from Thursday till Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Metzger and daughter Marjorie of Astoria. Mr. Metzger, who is manager of the Beehive store in Astoria enjoyed a fishing trip while here with a group of local anglers.

G. E. Finnerty and his guest A. W. Metzger of Astoria, E. H. Condit, Harold McEntire, Jack Marshall, and Larry Marshall went on a fishing trip up Rock creek Friday and returned Saturday noon reporting "fair" luck. Part of their catch, a tray of fine cutthroats, was on display at the quilt and agricultural show Saturday afternoon.

Dr. W. H. Hurley of Portland and Ernest Yeo of Gladstone were in town Saturday evening to attend the exemplification of DeMolay work at the Masonic temple.

Nehalem assembly, Order of Rainbow, met in regular session Monday night followed by an informal hour of dancing to music furnished by Miss Amy Hughes at the piano.
