Football Frolic Is Scheduled For Tonight

Will Be Sponsored by the Junior Class

Stella's Dance band will furnish the music for football frolic which is to be held tonight at the I.O.O.F. hall tonight. They are regularly employed at the Baln Grove Auto park. The alumni of Vernonia and the student body of all the surrounding schools are cordially invited to attend this frolic. Ladies 25c, gentlemen 35c, couples 50c.

The Lettermen dancers given last year were not given the support that was expected. However, this was undoubtedly due to the fact that the plan was new here. The funds from this dance will go to help the football boys pay their debts. This is your chance to help our team make good.

Other schools have successful football dances—why shouldn't we? We certainly can and will if every student in school realizes that it is his duty to attend this dance. The junior class is doing all that is in its power to assure a good time to everyone.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM VICTOR AGAIN

Friday afternoon saw another victory for high school's team when she rolled over the second team, Mr. Mills, Mr. Skuzie and anyone else who wished to play against her, for an astounding score of 54-0. In the first few moments of the game, Byers, left half for the seconds, received a twisted vertebrae when tackled by Overson and Rainey for a slight loss.

Touchdown after touchdown was scored by the school team and Coach McCrae says he hopes for a still better team when the men reach the peak of condition.

MISS ALDRIDGE GIVES TALK

An interesting talk was given to the assembly Monday afternoon by Miss Aldridge, who set before the group a few of the problems which we face at the present time.

The chief problem, she stated, at the present time is one of remarkable importance. Juvenile delinquency, which in the first eight weeks of 1934 increased 200 per cent for girls and 35 per cent for boys since 1933's first eight weeks, Miss Aldridge states that crime is rapidly increasing since the repeal of prohibition.

HOLLY HOLCOMB'S MOST EXCITING MOMENT

Two years ago we were behind, in the Scappoose game by two points. With about five minutes to play and Scappoose in possession of the ball, we were becoming discouraged. On the next few plays Scappoose carried the ball from their 30 yard line to our 20. Finally luck came our way when they tried a lateral pass and it was intercepted by Hillman. Behind perfect blocking he dashed the length of the field for the winning points.

NOTICE!

The student body has completed the athletic tickets and they are on sale now. See Blowers for tickets. Price $1.50. These tickets entitle the holder to all season's games. Tickets will be on sale at this afternoon's game.

Shalmon Libel getting hacked by the "rooks" Thursday.

Evelyn Shipley, Reva McCormick, Delphia Killian and several other sophomores standing by the door, making the "rooks" bow to them as they come in.

Dick Lewis "Shorty" Banzer and other boys of the hacking committee grumbling because they were not allowed to use paddles at initiation.

Hugh McDonald and Joe McNutt putting lipstick on Amos Isle.

Dorothy Overson feeding a blind-folded rook spaghetti, and telling her she was eating worms.

Fred Henderson, Ward Plummer and Ralph Condit making two rooks get down on their knees on the street and bow to them.

Three other sophomores making two rooks play leap-frog from town to school.

GIRLS' LEAGUE HOLDS PARTY FOR NEW GIRLS

The old and new members of the Girls' league met in Mr. Mills' room Tuesday during the activity period for the purpose of welcoming and initiating the new members.

Under the instructions of the entertainment committee, Jeanne Hughes and Alice Baker, the new members entertained the old members with impromptu speeches, rhymes, songs and dances.

Ice cream bars and cookies were served by the refreshment committee consisting of Erma Thompson, Beulah Reed and Elaine Loudon.

SCHOOL VISITED BY MIMEOGRAPH SALESMAN

J. E. Nagel, agent of the W. E. Finzer Co., Inc., called on the Vernonia high school Monday afternoon to demonstrate the latest mimeographs and mimeoscopes in which he is trying to interest the school.

STUDENT BODY MEETING

It was decided at a student body meeting Monday afternoon that athletic and student body tickets would go on sale at once. Thursday afternoon there was a rally held by order of the student body. Talks were made by Miss Peggy Byers and Toivo Eloranta concerning tickets.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

The home economics class has received several samples of food, etc., from various companies. The Albers company sent various articles of food to be used by the girls in their work. Various gelatines were sent by the Knox Gelatine Co. Miss Drake obtained, through the Northwest Canning Co., several sample cans of vegetables and fruits. The Fuller Brush Co. people furnished some cleaning brushes.

Arrangements have been made for some foods to be delivered at an early opportunity through the Vernonia Trading Co. More material is expected this week.

TEACHERS' PICNIC

The grade school faculty entertained members of the high school staff and their families with a picnic lunch at the Big Eddy Wednesday evening. Cars were provided for transportation to the picnic ground about 4:30.

Indoor baseball was the main diversion until the lunch was served.

SENIORS LISTEN..

This is in all probability your last year in school; let's make it one to be remembered, cooperate with your fellow students, help those of the lower classmen who need help, try to be a credit to your class. When we leave this school for good, we'd like to have students in years to come say, "Remember that Class of '35, they sure were a tough, square gang, weren't they?" Things like that, to the average persons are a balm to his heart when he becomes merely a plodding cog in a machine, a well-to-do merchant, a famous statesman or an authoritative, well-read journalist.

When you go to take your place in life, whether it be as a wife, or in a college or in some business enterprise, try to carry on the traditions of a square group of seniors in a small-town high school. Be square and honest and though you may be sorry at the time, you'll probably be glad of it in years to come. I say to you, as one classmate to another, carry on.

You probably each have some pet or secret ambition which may seem hopeless now out which at a later date will be much more easily carried out; don't give up, though you may seem to be snowed under by events, don't let it bother you, take the bitter with the sweet for where there's a lot of good, there's bound to be a little bad.

Cooperation is the essence of success. Learn that later and it probably wouldn't help a lot but knowing it now, practicing to learn now, with your classmates, always endeavoring to progress and go forward, even in school, is to be regarded as an honest effort on your part. Remember these things and in later life you shall in all probability have the opportunity to apply them for the betterment of yourself and surroundings.

DRESSING ROOM CHATTER

By Alley Oop

Coach McCrae with his baritone voice singing the "Pagan Song," or what was it?

Mr. "Skuezix" Skuzie, assistant coach, telling the boys how he held a man for a fifteen yard loss in the alumni game. P. S. It happened to be the opposing guard.

Hamp "Beaupele" Roberson explaining how to become so slim. Put on some clothes, "Bensy."

Stanley "Sethack" Parker dancing the jig accompanied by Paul "Perkins" Adams playing an Xylophone tune on his "spare" ribs.

CRUDE COMEDIES

Mr. Mills, madly trying to retain his balance when his chair tipped over in the sociology class. Ray says he almost hurt his dignity, or something.

Numerous seniors dash madly hither and thither. I think they're hunting something, a key, maybe.

Bert Mills is surely proud of his deep tenor. You should hear him singing "Many Brave Hearts Are Asleep in the Deep."

Dave Howard carrying a slip of paper around. He says he's getting autographs, but he's not. I am.

Thelma Lincoln going around trying to look dignified. She's a junior this year.

I think the editor will have to

COMING CARNIVAL AT- TRACTS ATTENTION

The carnival committee, consisting of Helen Messing, Roberta Williams and Toivo Eloranta, are quite mysterious concerning the high school carnival which they say will be held around the last of October, so save your nickels and save your dimes.

There will be all kinds of booths, side-shows, candies and everything you enjoy at a real carnival except perhaps the Ferris wheel, merry-go-round, etc. We freely invite you to come prepared for a good time. Remember, during the latter part of October.

INITIATIONS OVER

We see the rooks running around the hall with relieved expressions on their faces, initiations are over at last. Thursday morning found the frosh entering school in all manners of grotesque attire. This is how they looked: boys wearing trousers wrong side out and backwards, shirts grand side out and backwards, women's hose and shoes, faces painted black, red, blue green and purple. They were all carrying dolls of some sort from a teddy bear down to a "nigger" baby.

The girls' attire was also quite remarkable: dresses wrong side out, men's shoes and sox, hair plaited, shoes on wrong feet, red dots all over their faces and wearing somewhere about their persons a green ribbon.

From Monday until Thursday, rooks, both boys and girls, were forced to bow very low to all upper classmen and if they didn't they were hacked a little harder on Thursday.

The party was held at the Evangelical church and refreshments were served at the expense of the sophomores. Some of the highlights of the day were: Bill Byers proposal to Marjorie Lane in baby talk; Acord and Crowder singing different songs off key, etc. According to the rooks, the hacking committee had the most fun.

After initiations were over no hard feelings were held and the party broke up in good spirits.

FIDO VISITS

The physics class was visited by a knowledge seeking perhaps trouble-seeking—dog.

The dog, a large collie, made his appearance at the beginning of the period and leisurely wagged a greeting to all the members of the class from the window. When Mr. Mills did not offer him a seat he at once sat down on the window sill and commenced to absorb learning at a great rate. But the subject soon became too heavy for him, so he proceeded to recover from his great mental strain by taking a nap.

SENIORS ON PARADE

This week's survey of seniors sees most of them in Miss Drake's room correcting lining papers; Miss Drake just has the ability to make them work for her when they won't even work for themselves.

Holly Holcomb (the boy with the broken leg) has finally condescended to hang the picture as President Laird wouldn't; someone had to do it.

Something else too, we don't hear much about the coming football game with Banks this Friday; let's hear a lot of talk from youse' guys and gals from now on.

Banks to Meet Vernonia Here This Afternoon

First Honors of Season Are to Be Decided

Banks will be here Friday, Sept. 28, 1934, A.D., to meet in mortal combat Vernonia's "Loggers" for the first honors of the season in the ball park at 2:30 p. m.

We are going to have a tough bunch for this game as Mr. McCrae has been working on the line, especially during the past few days. Banks is supposed to have a pretty tough team this year but Mac says he's not worried too much. Coach McCrae has not yet figured out the lineup for the game, but you can bet that it will be a good one.

Banks was handed a slight defeat at the hands of Scappoose last Friday, 45-0. Banks has a light team this year so we are told.

Admission to today's game will be: Adults 20c, high school 15c and grade school 10c.

JUNIOR NEWS CHAT

Are we upper classmen having fun, or are we? We feel so important with all the rooks bowing and running to do our errands. Great stuff, you sophomores!

The junior English class is taking a course in mechanical drawing—Miss Cray has hopes of turning out Michael Angelos.

This school is going to the bow wows, so it seems, from the number of canines that have been frolicking to school each morning. Poor dumb animals—they seem to enjoy coming to school.

Another addition to our menagerie is a little black cat that entertained the French class one morning. He showed off so much that he nearly fell out of the tree he had climbed.

Plans for the junior dance, to be given in the I. O. O. F. hall Friday, Sept. 28, have been completed. This dance is to be given after a football game with Banks, and is for the benefit of the football boys. The admission will be ladies 25c, men 35c, couples 50c.

EXTRA

War to be declared on juniors unless they relinquish the senior key. Yesterday it was the sign the boys brought home from Cannon Beach, today it was the senior key.

Wednesday morning the seniors in a determined search at last located the sign, which says in bold black letters "Madison Street," in the attic of the high school building. Thursday morning it was the key, which is the most highly prized of the senior's possessions.

This must stop or we will have to hack the juniors as the sophomores are hacking the rooks. I guess we'll have to offer a reward for the key, however, if we want it back.

Aha! Due to Theodore Dewitt, we have it back now, but it do be in a sad shape.

The Woman's Missionary society of Vernonia was hostess at a reception held Friday night at the Evangelical church honoring the grade and high school teachers. After an interesting program of music and short speeches refreshments were served.
