MANY ATTEND RALLY DAY PROGRAM

Bettering the goal previously set for the last Sunday of the Evangelical Sunday school's attendance contest, 289 members and friends were present Sunday morning for the special Rally day program, and to hear the announcement of the winning side. The red side captained by Mary Ann Childs won by a lead of 79.

One hundred seventy-five on the red side were present Sunday and 114 on the blue side. Mary Ann Childs and Sara McGee, captain of the blue side, were both very active and enthusiastic leaders. Each gave a short response when introduced to the audience.

To honor the winning side, the blues will give a large and unusually interesting party in the church parlors on Friday, Oct. 19, to which all members and friends of the Sunday school will be invited.

Mrs. Franklin Rogers, who prepared the program assisted by Mrs. L. H. Dewey and Mrs. D. C. Cason, presided during the special Rally day exercises which included the following:

Opening number by Evelyn Glanville, Margaret Fisher and Yvonne Wridge; "Welcome," by Pauline Rollins; "Rally Day Wonderings," by Thelma Lincoln; Rally Day Acrobatic, by Mrs. Cason's class; music by the Sunday school orchestra, directed by E. J. Douglass; recitation, "I couldn't," by Bobby Wall; song, Our Sunday School, by Mrs. Harvard Malmsten's class; recitation, "Come Back," by Martha Tapp; a play, "So Let Us Serve," by Mrs. L. H. Dewey's class, and a brief message by Rev. A. N. Glanville.

The play cast included Helen Tisdale, youth; Erma Kent, service; Frances Childs, education; Elsie Duncan, success; Myrtle Thornbru, pleasure; and Kioki Kuge, wealth. Music was furnished by Mildred Cason, Sara McGee, Geraldine Cason, Esther Forembing and Doris Rae Estey.

The offering of $15 will start a fund for new hymn books. An award will be presented to Mrs. E. J. Douglass' Bible class which gave the largest offering per member.

Mrs. E. E. Garner, Sunday school superintendent, explained a new and unique attendance contest between classes, called an automobile race, which will begin next Sunday. The class winning the contest will be entertained by the Sunday school board.

BULB SEED SALE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

A good deal of interest in the bulb, seed and slip sale to be given tomorrow in the former Home bakery building by the Betty Brite circle is being shown by local garden lovers. The circle promise bulbs, slips and seeds from some of the choicest gardens in town at very low prices.

The circle will also sell a variety of home cooked foods and Betty Brite scouring sponges Pollyanna aprons will also be sold.

STUDY CLUB DISCUSSES CHEST DRIVE

Community chest drive plans occupied a prominent place in the business session of the Vernonia Study club which held its first regular meeting for the year at the home of Mrs. L. H. Dewey. Mrs. E. S. Thompson, elected to the presidency last spring, presided.

The drive will begin next Monday, October 8, and will end Saturday, October 13, members of the club being at the office of Loel Roberts each day to receive gifts and pledges.

The club study project for the year will deal with selected examples of modern literature. The first program included a review of Dorothy Canfield Fisher's novel, The Deepening Stream, by Mrs. F. D. Macpherson, current comments by Mrs. A. J. Hughes, and a general discussion.

Others present were Mrs. Dave Marshall, Mrs. Judd Greenman, Mrs. H. M. Bigelow, Mrs. E. J. Douglass, Mrs. E. M. Bollinger, Mrs. Fred Wall, Mrs. Enoch Dumas, Mrs. I. N. McCollom, Mrs. H. V. Holcomb and Mrs. C. W. Reithner of Portland, a past president of the club.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hughes on October 25.

LOYAL WOMEN HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

The meeting of the Loyal Women at the Christian church Wednesday was an especially interesting occasion, being preceded by a dinner given in honor of the winning side of the class following a Bible school contest. The hostesses were members of the losing side, their names beginning A to L.

A brief devotional service and business meeting followed the social hour. Work was also begun on a quilt.

The members were especially invited to the missionary meeting which is to be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Brady. Mrs. Nola Brady will be the leader.

MRS. A. J. HUGHES ENTERTAINS

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hughes entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Dewey at dinner Monday evening. On Thursday evening of the previous week Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ruhl were guests at the Hughes home for a Mexican supper.

The regular monthly meeting of the library board will be held Tuesday evening, October 9.

APPROACH TO BOOK IS E. M. S. FEATURE

An unique introduction to the new study book for the Evangelical Missionary society entitled "Japanese Women Speak" was arranged for the regular monthly program given in the church Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Sidney Malmsten, program chairman.

Dressed in Japanese costumes a group of seven ladies gave reports of the convention of the various denominational fields in Japan. Those participating were Mrs. Henry John, Mrs. L. H. Dewey, Mrs. E. J. Douglass, Mrs. A. J. Hughes, Mrs. A. C. Knauss, Mrs. A. L. Parker and Mrs. E. S. Thompson. Mrs. F. D. Macpherson gave a sketch of the life of the author of the study book.

Mrs. Ira Mann led the devotional service, and Mrs. Oscar George reviewed current events from mission stations. Readings were given by Mrs. O. D. McCabe and Mrs. Ida Henry.

Reports of circles occupied the business meeting. The Betty-Brite circle stressed the bulb, seed and plant sale to be given in Mrs. Miner' Home bakery building Saturday. The Deborah circle announced the "tacky" party to be held in the church tonight. A canned fruit "shower" was given to Rev. and Mrs. A. N. Glanville during the social hour, and many gifts from birthday friends were in evidence.

The hostess committee composed of Mrs. Walter Kent, Mrs. H. G. Sandon, Mrs. H. M. Bigelow, Mrs. Paul Gordon, Mrs. A. L. Bassett and Mrs. Ivan N. McCollom served refreshments to over 60 members and friends.

Tonight the Deborah circle is giving its "tacky" party in the church social halls and a large crowd of very "tackily" dressed guests is anticipated. Unusual entertainment is being provided.

Miss Mabel Anderson of the Washington school staff spent the week end at her home in Portland. She traveled as far as Forest Grove with Mr. and Mrs. I. N. McCollom, who visited there with relatives over the week end.

Zonweiss Douglass returned to her home here Thursday of last week after having spent the summer in Portland. She accompanied her uncle, George Miller, and C. C. Murton of the Miller Mercantile Co.

Mrs. F. E. Malmsten Returns Saturday From Iowa Trip

Mrs. F. E. Malmsten returned last Saturday from a two months visit in Iowa. She left Portland July 31, traveling via the Greyhound and Union Pacific stage lines to Des Moines, through Boise, Salt Lake, Cheyenne and Omaha. At Des Moines she was met by her daughter, Mrs. F. C. Griffin, formerly a teacher in the Vernonia high school and now living at Sigourney, Iowa, where Mr. Griffin is a Smith-Hughes teacher in the high school. From Signourney they drove by auto to Swea City, in north central Iowa to her old home, and where her mother, a sister and a brother now lives.

On Aug. 16 a family reunion was held on her mother's ninety-first birthday.

Mrs. Malmsten found southern Iowa very dry. Signourney formerly held the heat record but Ottumwa, 30 miles from Signourney took it this year with 115 degrees. The corn was cooked and pastures looked like plowed ground. Southern Iowa was almost a total failure, although late rains started the grass to growing, which changed the looks of the country for the better. Northern Iowa fared better for it rained there in time to produce a good yield of corn and small grain yielded better than expected.

Returning she came through Kansas City, Denver, where a snow storm was encountered, and traveling north to Cheyenne and west for half a day the ground was white. Salt Lake was again reached on the return trip, thence to Reno, the noted city of the west, where a stop was made for a period of an hour and then on to San Francisco. She thinks, in some respects, stages excell trains for getting a better view of the country. The stages on the west coast are much better than those in the east. The best one on the whole trip was from San Francisco to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Douglass and daughter Zonweiss went to Portland Monday to visit Vivian Douglass, who is a patient in the Good Samaritan hospital. They were pleased to find her improving rapidly following a serious illness. They went with Rev. and Mrs. A. N. Glanville, who also visited in Portland.
