GLEE CLUB NEWS

It is high time the Glee club came into the limelight and let the public know what it is doing. This year under the direction of Miss Hughes the Glee club is exceptionally large.

The newest songs being worked on at present are: "Smilin' Thru," "Venetian Nights" and "Listen to the Lambs," a negro spiritual.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Slack of Salem were in Vernonia Tuesday.

Mrs. Leona Thompson of Timber is out of the hospital after an operation for eye trouble, and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Harvard Malmsten, who has been ill with appendicitis is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Greenman motored down the coast as far as Toledo over the week end. They enjoyed a visit with Fred more interest in Glee club this year and with their honorable presence the music has more volume.

The large Glee club, consisting of 34 students, meets on the activity period every Wednesday and Thursday, while the smaller Glee club of 14 students meets the last period every day except Monday and Friday. The smaller club, in addition to the choral work studies music appreciation and scale patterns. Incidentally it might be of interest to know that reports are given each week on the operas given over the Sunday Chase and Sanborn Coffee hour. Last week LaVerne Thompson gave a report on Puccini's "Madame Butterfly." This week a report will be given on "Hanzel and Gretel," a Christmas opera.
