SAFEWAY STORES SPONSOR CUSTOMER COFFEE CONTEST

The entire month of October is the time set for a $1200 customer coffee contest sponsored by Safeway Stores, it was announced Monday.

Contest fans are to be treated to a unique type of contest in the firms latest drive for coffee business. Unlike many contests, prizes will not be awarded on the basis of chance or skill. Awards will be made according to the number of pounds of the firms three brands of coffee (Airway, Nob Hill and Edward's Dependable) sold upon the recommendations of the contestants.

There are 50 prizes in all to be offered. Twelve hundred dollars in cash is to be awarded as follows: First prize, $500; second, third and fourth prizes, $100 each; fifth, sixth and seventh prizes, $50 each; eighth to 17th inclusive, $25 each. The 33 remaining prizes will each be a copy of Julia Wright's latest edition of her loose leaf cook book, personally autographed.

The contest, which is open to everybody, except of course, employees of the company, works this way. The contestant calls at the store and asks for a supply of contest slips. These are to be signed and then passed out to friends and neighbors with a recommendation to try a pound of one of the three brands of coffee. When the purchase is made the slip is countersigned by the purchaser and turned in at the store, and at this point the contestant receives a credit of five points for each pound of coffee purchased. At the end of the contest, the 50 higher contestants will be awarded the
