Parliamentary
"Do you think you'll be able to get the speaker's eye?"
"The speaker hasn't done anything to me yet," said the athletic young member. "If he does, I won't aim for his eye. I'll aim for his jaw."

GENERAL ALARM

Worm-Doggonit, that fool near-sighted firebug thinks I'm a piece of hose.

Nothing Gratis

"You can't get something for nothing in this life."
"That's right," replied the gloomy citizen. "If I want even a few kind words about my disposition and some hope of future success, I've got to go to a fortune teller and pay for them."

LOST?

The teacher was telling his class about the conquests of Alexander the Great.

"When Alexander had conquered India," he said, "what do you think he did? Do you think he gave a great feast to celebrate his triumph? No; he sat down and wept."

The children seemed a little disappointed at this childish exhibition on the part of the hero, so the teacher continued: "Now, why do you think Alexander wept?"

Up went a little hand.
"Well, Tommy?" said the teacher.
"Please, sir," said Tommy, hesitatingly, "perhaps he didn't know the way back."-Tit-Bits Magazine.

Wants to Keep on Living

"Your son tells me he never can get you to ride with him," said the neighbor.

"No," growled the dad, "I won't ride with anybody who always wants to show the speed the car has and the brains he hasn't got every time he gets hold of the wheel."-Cincinnati Enquirer.

HRRMPH!

A kindly old general, an ardent horseman, was visiting the hospital. "What's your trouble?" he asked a junior officer patient.

"Fell off my motor bike, sir," replied the subaltern.

"You would do much better," observed the general, "to sell the noisy, smelly thing and get a good pony. Then you wouldn't be wasting time in hospital."

He turned to the occupant of the next bed.

"Well, and what's the matter with you?"

"Fell off my horse, sir!"-Watchword.
