Fair Crowd Sees Fine Match in Legion Hall

A fair crowd witnessed what the spectators acclaimed as a fine show at the boxing match in the Legion hall Wednesday night. There was plenty of action from beginning to end.

In the curtain raiser "Two Ton" Davis and Clifford Lyons fought a lively four round draw. Harold Hoben and Joe McNutt also boxed a draw.

The bout between Red Vike and Tony Crullo stole the show. It was a slam-bang give and take all the way through. Most of the crowd thought Vike should have had the decision, but Referee Bert Tisdale called it a draw.

In the semi-final between Geno Cortesi and Ken Parker the decision was won in six rounds by Cortesi. He again proved that he is a little too tough for local bantam weights.

The main event, between Joe Magoff and John Monroe, was a mixture of boxing, slugging and comedy. Monroe got the worst of it, though he jumped around to avoid some of Magoff's heavy thrusts. After a series of knockdowns Referee Curly Buffmire stopped the fight in the fourth round to save Monroe from further punishment.

Al Cummings, a good looking newcomer from Montana, challenged Magoff.

SERVICING

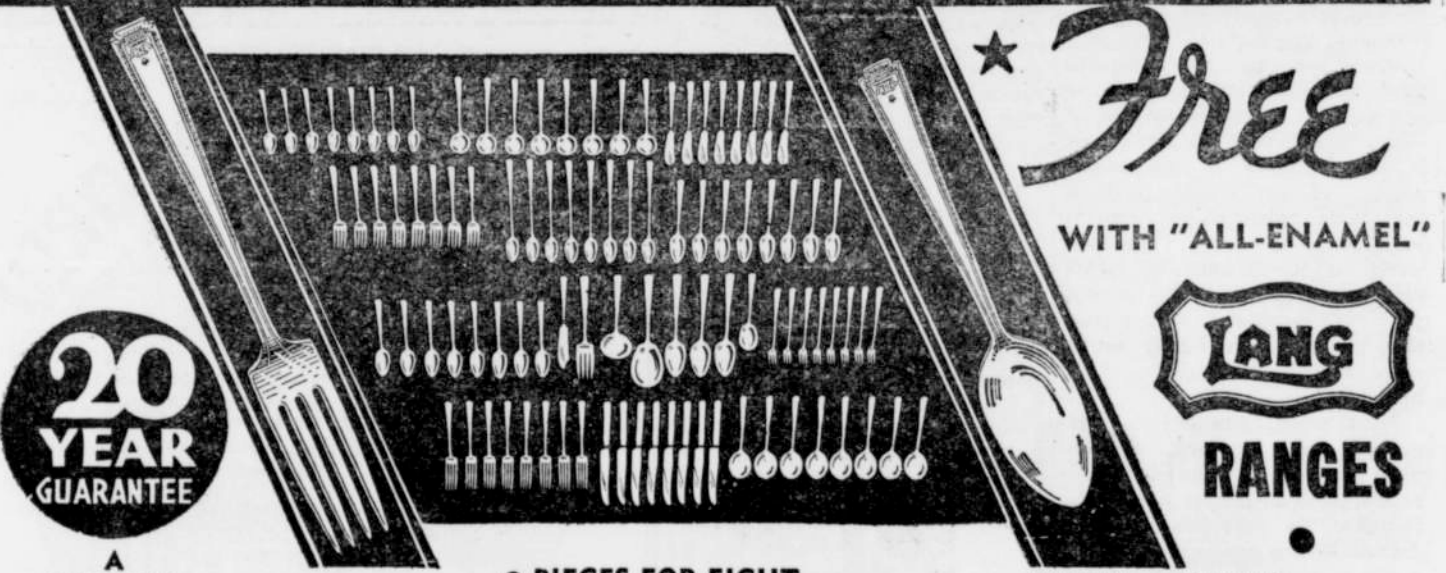

The modern hi-speed automobile requires special devices and tons of pressure to properly lubricate it. Old grease and oil must be displaced from bearing surfaces by hi-pressure, and new grease and oil driven into the bearings. To grease and oil your automobile requires more knowledge than merely connecting mechanical greasing devices to greasing nipples. There is a world of difference between the trained operator, working by chart and knowledge of his work, than the "greaser." Special knowledge of car construction, special oils and greases must be used before your car is safe from wear. Our men are trained to the job, and we have the finest mechanical equipment in this locality.
