RACE FOR QUEEN OF ST. HELLION DAY IS UNDER WAY

St. Helens - (Special) - Under way only a few days, the race for Queen of St. Helion days celebration at St. Helens, June 26 and 27, is taking a prominent place in preliminary activities.

Six princesses already are in the field, selling the buttons which admit the holder to all events at the celebration. Each button will count 100 votes in determining the queen. Unsuccessful candidates will be princesses.

Those entered are Lois Hewitt of St. Helens, for the Young Democrats; Pearl Peck of St. Helens, for the Eagles lodge; Sylvia Lindal of St. Helens, for McCormick's; Ausetia Burgan of St. Helens, for Fir-Tex; Gertrude Qualley of Scappoose, for Pacific Conserving Company; and Ellen Lowe of St. Helens, for the paper mill union.

Candidates also will be entered from Vernonia, Rainier, and Deer Island community.

The two-day program will include a display of industrial products of the entire county, water sports, baseball, parades, the coronation, air model contests,

Darn Tootin'!

(Travelers Safety Service)

Impatience never got anybody anywhere except into trouble.

Too many motorists expect an automobile horn to work miracles. They forget it was made for only one purpose: A horn should warn.

There is nothing quite so irritating as a horn-tooting motorist, with the possible exception of a mosquito in a sleeping porch. Both merit the same consideration.

An ancient Chinese philosopher said: "The big voice betokens the small mind." Five thousand years have not altered this truth, although it is expressed on our highways today with less grace and more profanity.

Impatient motorists should remember that a devil is recognized by his horns.

So, button, button, lay off the button!
