Cotton Pickin' Time in Dixie

"Cotton's looking pretty good," was the encouraging report of the supervisor of the 2,000-acre Roosevelt farm near Warm Springs, Ga., when pickers began gathering the President's cotton crop recently. They're all busy but this fellow who finds relaxation on a pile of lint while other members of his family do the work. The President will probably get after him.

They're Telling Tall Fish Stories

When Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, and Fin Petrie, winner of the Country Home Magazine's annual award for the best rural newspaper correspondence, met recently, they discovered a mutual interest in fishing. Fin, who comes from Opal, Wyo., has just asked Jack to join him on an expedition through the Jackson Hole country. The ex-champ is saying, "Okay."
