

Mistakes Are Past

When you make a mistake, don't look back at it long. Take the reason of the thing into your own mind, and then look forward. Mistakes are lessons of wisdom. . . . The past cannot be changed. The future is yet in your power.—Hugh White.

False Flattery

People generally despise where they flatter and cringe to those whom they desire to supersede.—Marcus Aurelius.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

FEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month.

You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. If you're wise and if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "Smiling Through."

ACCOMPLISHED BY PETER MOONEY, PLAYING FOR THE DAYTON, OHIO, SEA DOGS AGAINST THE REPUTATIONS

AN ANT-EATER IN THE LEVENSTEIN
TOO, BERLIN, ESCAPED THE NIGHT OF MARCH 17, 1917, WAS FOUND THE NEXT MORNING SITTING QUIETLY WITH A LADY ANT-EATER IN A CAGE AT THE BERLIN CITY ZOO, FIVE MILES AWAY. NOW IT FOUND ITS WAY INTO THE CAGE HAS NEVER EXPLAINED.

Zoo authorities were satisfied that no one had stolen the ant-eater. To this day they do not know how it found its way to the other animal or how it gained entrance to the cage.

Mooney pitched a no-hit, no-run game. He struck out every man who faced him.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK...

By Lemuel F. Parton

NEW YORK.—Big, square-headed, ham-fisted Ernest Bevin, czar of right wing British labor, lost his first big fight at the Bournemouth conference as the Labor party voted greater representation for its left wing political elements. Mr. Bevin is the Sam Gompers of British labor, opposing political activity, labor theorists, philosophers, communists and intellectuals, and relying solely on the economic squeeze for tying knots in the lion's tail—and on occasion he has made the lion yelp resoundingly.

The Bournemouth showdown, lightly touched in American news dispatches, is a victory for the "united front," for such left wing ascendancy as that of Maj. Clement R. Attlee and Sir Stafford Cripps; it marks a potential schism in British labor and it reveals distinct similarity to nascent political and "ideological" trends in American labor.

He is head of the powerful Transport Workers' union, a large element of which clamored for a boycott against Japanese goods and threatened to refuse to handle them. England notes all this with acute memories of 1926, when Mr. Bevin and his dock workers gave Britain a severe case of jitters with their paralyzing strike. He was similarly obdurate when he pulled the big London bus strike at the time of the coronation.

Innocent bystanders cheer his roundhouse swings at the Reds, but wonder who'll bell the cat if he gets more power—and Mr. Bevin has an aggravated case of the power itch. In the present issue—roughly comparable to the disagreement between John L. Lewis and William Green—conservative opinion is being heavily mobilized behind Mr. Bevin.

He is from the Limehouse district, an expounder of traditional trades-union doctrine, such as Gompers taught, based chiefly on "Reward your friends and punish your enemies," and never mind the philosophy or politics. Bulky, moon-faced and belligerent, he is not only a fighter and organizer, but a clever strategist. As in 1924, battling the ship-owners for a shilling a day raise in dock wages. Professors at a conference showed charts proving a worker could get fat on the current wage. He stepped out and translated a day's wages into bread and margarine. It was a pitiful showing. They won their increase.

rent wage. He stepped out and translated a day's wages into bread and margarine. It was a pitiful showing. They won their increase.

MUSSOLINI and Hitler, oiling up the Rome-Berlin axis, didn't hesitate to let the world know they can't lose. They might ponder what happened to Slip

Mr. Madigan Madigan when he broke loose from the traditional inferiority complex of football coaches. Recently, setting a precedent, he said St. Mary's was going to trounce California and there was no use making any bones about it. Then California trimmed St. Mary's, 30 to 0.

Since Mr. Madigan and his "Galloping Gaels" were last seen hereabouts, the bankers have grabbed old alma mater, but they are still going strong, a lurid spot of color on this year's football horizon. It seems to be something new—a top-hole football outfit touring for a fore-closed college.

In the 16 years in which Mr. Madigan coached the little college of Moraga valley, California, 20 miles east of Oakland, he pulled it up from a dejected little hangnail squad to a roving, ravening band of man-eaters. "The Mad Magician of Moraga," alliterated the football scribes, referring to Mr. Madigan, who was not only coach, but trainer, rubber, handler, doctor, dietitian and pants mender.

I remember looking on, in 1920, I think it was, when California beat St. Mary's, 120 to 0. The college was a dingy little red brick building in a sleazy little side street. They took drubbings like that every year.

Then came Slip Madigan, from Notre Dame, via Oregon. His main assets were a law degree, several pink shirts and an unmatched instinct for showmanship. He set the place on fire with football fervor. Two years later, they licked California, just as if Ethiopia should lick Italy today. From then on, there was no stopping them. The college got plenty of funds and moved to a nice home in the Moraga valley. The "Moraga Maulers," with candy-colored pants this year and red silk next year, pounced and devoured all over the country.

The financial crack-up focused on Slip Madigan's salary. Last February, bondholders charged the college had turned over to him all of the $38,324.15 receipts from the Fordham game. Last July, the college was sold at auction, but, college or no college, the Gaels keep on galloping. Just a fast, 16-year running start, and they can't slow down.

Two Buttons and a Hair Pin.—In most cases that's all you need to keep the loose pieces from falling out of a shattered window pane in your home or car. Put one button on each side of the hole in the glass, run the hair pin through the buttons and twist the end until it is tight.

A Delight for the Children.—Next time your children want a party, cook a cornstarch custard and fill cones. Alternate every spoonful or so with currant jelly and finish with jelly on top.

Cauliflower and Eggs.—Butter a pie dish and break into it 4 eggs. Half cook a small cauliflower and break into neat pieces. Arrange these round the eggs and season with salt and pepper. Pour over 4 tablespoonfuls milk and place 1 ounce butter in small pieces on the top. Sprinkle 2 ounces grated cheese over, and bake 15-20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Lattice-Topped Pies.—Fruit and berry pies with lattice-style tops require less baking time than the regular full-crust toppers.

Good Airing.—When you have the windows open in the morning to air the beds before making, open the clothes closet doors wide and let the current of air run through them. It will prevent them from getting that close stuffy odor so undesired where our clothes are concerned.

To Wash Curtains.—Lace curtains before being washed for the first time should be soaked for an hour or two in cold water to which two tablespoons of table salt have been added. This removes dressing in curtains and makes them much easier to launder.

Saves Time on Wash Day.—An old wood plane is just the thing to convert bar soap into shavings that dissolve quickly. Turn the plane upside down over a large jar or other container and work the soap back and forth across the sharp edge.

Apple Butter and Ice Cream.—Try a scoop of vanilla ice cream topped with a spoonful of rich brown apple butter.
