

Evangelical Church Does Mother Honor

Many Gifts Presented Sunday at Special Service for Day

The Mother's Day program at the Evangelical Sunday School was presented to a large and appreciative audience. It was introduced by a group of old favorite songs played by members of the Douglass orchestra. The remainder of the hour was filled with songs and recitations by members of the Sunday school.

Every mother present was given a spray of lilacs which had been donated for the occasion by Mrs. Frank Peterson and Mrs. Marie Holmstrom of Natal.

Mrs. Carl Anderson, the youngest mother present, was given a potted lantern.

Mrs. J. E. Tapp, the mother with the most children present in the service, received a potted fuchsia. Each of her five children was given a red tulip.

The mother of the largest family was Mrs. Ollie Roberts, mother of ten children; second place in this group was taken by Mrs. Mary Roediger, mother of nine. Each of these ladies was given a potted plant.

The oldest mother present was Mrs. C. Van Blaricom, who received a Martha Washington geranium.

Bouquets were also presented to all mothers over 75 years of age. These included Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mrs. E. L. Derebery, Mrs. Mary Roediger and Mrs. Emma Weed.

An honorary bouquet was presented to Miss Lenora Kizer, who, because of her long years of service in the Vernonia schools has "mothered" many of the boys and girls and young people of the Sunday school.

FORMER RESIDENT GETS PUBLICITY FOR TREE CUTTING

Harold Akerstedt, a former Vernonia resident, was the recipient of considerable radio and newspaper publicity the past week due to his being selected to cut what is reported to be the largest fir tree in Clatsop county. The tree, the cutting of which occupied the better part of three days, was to be preserved in part by Clatsop county citizens as an example of the growth available in that area.

Mr. Akerstedt has several relatives residing here now, it was understood.

Capacity Crowd Feature Of Service

Assembly of God Meetings Attracts, Rev. Merle Glew Says This Week

The evangelistic campaign which has been in progress the past two weeks at the Assembly of God church on east Bridge street has been marked by splendid interest each night, said Rev. Merle Glew this week. Better crowds have been in attendance than ever before during the church's history in Vernonia, he said.

Friday evening a delegation from Westport was present and all available seating capacity was taken. "Some genuine conversions have marked the meetings," said Rev. Glew, "and the services have been very profitable to all who have attended."

In all probability the services will close Sunday evening.

Seniors Enjoy Weekend—

The Vernonia seniors enjoyed their annual "sneak day" the past weekend by taking three, in place of one day. The graduates left here Saturday morning for Seaside, staying there over the weekend, returning Monday after enjoying hikes, angling, golf and surf features. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McCrea accompanied the group on the trip.

Improvements Noted—

Several improvements in local business houses were noted this week, chief among them being the refitting of the Kullander Jewelry store interior, repainting and decorating of the Nance Pharmacy interior and painting of the Cozy Confectionery front.

Quilt Fair Winners Given Their Awards

Many Hundreds see Unusual Displays in Early Building Past Weekend

Winners in the various classifications of the quilt fair held here last weekend by the Pollyanna Circle of the Evangelical church were announced this week by a committee of judges, headed by Mrs. Maude Purvine, county demonstration agent.

Classifications, and places won, follow: pieced quilts for ladies under 60—Mrs. Z. L. Sehorn, Mrs. Frank Kutilla, Mrs. Virgil Powell; appliqued quilts for ladies under 60—Mrs. Jean Enos, Mrs. Bundy, Mrs. C. A. Malmsten; pieced quilts for ladies over 60—Mrs. Ollie Roberts, Mrs. Ira Mann, Miss Opal Scheuerman; appliqued quilts for ladies over 60—Mrs. A. H. Tisdale, Mrs. Emma Weed, Mrs. Earl Dial; oldest quilt—Mrs. Ben Bennett (92), Mrs. Nola Brady (84), Mrs. E. J. Douglass (78); crocheted bedspreads—Mrs. Elmore Knight, Mrs. Ollie Roberts, Mrs. L. H. Dewey; afgans—Mrs. Emma Weed, Mrs. Wayne Hieber, Mrs. L. H. Dewey; crib quilts—Mrs. Geo. Comstock, Miss Mary Anne Clark, Mrs. R. E. Silvis.

Special mention was made of the old counterpanes which were hand woven, and one submitted by Mrs. L. H. Dewey which was 148 years old.

Today (Thursday), the winning quilts are on display in St. Helens at the County Home Demonstration exhibits.

The Pollyannas expressed their thanks to the merchants and to the exhibitors who made the first fair a huge success.

suggestions on how to entertain graciously, as well as how to be thrifty. Surprises in store for readers of The Eagle will not be limited to free entertainment and instruction, since there will be daily gifts, many of which will bring pleasure and renewed appreciation of "school days" long after the final graduation on the closing day.

Attending Conference—

Miss Edna Owens, Vernonia librarian; Mrs. Paul Gordon, and Mrs. Franklin Malmsten are in Portland today attending a district library meeting at the Rose City branch library. The latter two represent the city library board. The ladies plan to remain in Portland this evening to witness a play in which Helen Hayes is appearing.

Posters Are Judged Here This Week

Winners Announced in 3 Divisions; Ruby Thacker, Pleasant Hill, First

Ruby Thacker, seventh grade student at Pleasant Hill, was the sweepstakes winner in the American Legion Auxiliary poppy poster contest, judged by a committee headed by L. H. Dewey Friday afternoon.

Miss Thacker was also first in the 7th-8th-9th grade division from her school. Lesta Lea Christensen, also a seventh grade student from Pleasant Hill, was second.

Washington grade school winners were Marianna Furnish, first and Alice Billings, second, both of the seventh grade.

In the 4th-5th-6th division, Robert Murphy of Pleasant Hill was first and Beulah O'Connor of Pleasant Hill was second. Both were in the sixth grade.

An interesting sidelight developed in the judging which would have given Danny Sabalino, Washington seventh grader, all of the honors but for the fact that his poster did not display a poppy.

Flea Beetle To Be Topic Wednesday

County Agent, Kenneth Gray to Confer Here with Interested Ranchers

Though not especially appetizing, the flea beetle will be the subject for a meeting scheduled at the Vernonia Grange hall Wednesday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock, when the county agent, Geo. A. Nelson of St. Helens, and Kenneth Gray, who has been studying the flea beetle, its history and control, will come here to enlighten Vernonia and district farmers.

All interested in the pest are cordially invited to attend the meeting, points of which will be stressed by the use of slides.
