OUT TIME, PRICE OF MEAL, BUT STILL IN GOOD SPIRITS

A well dressed young man walked into C. F. Hieber's real estate office and asked to look at houses and lots. He said he wanted to buy. Mr. Hieber hastened to accommodate. Two or three hours were spent showing the man about town and he eventually selected one "he would buy." When the tour ended it was noon. Mr. Hieber asked his prospect to dinner. Back at the office after the free meal, the young man said: "Yes, I want to buy that house and lot. I'll go up to the mill and see if I can get a job then I'll be back." Mr. Hieber is still waiting, out his time and meal, but still hoping.

Everybody got up but one man in the corner when the evangelist asked all who wanted to go to heaven to stand.

"Do you want to go to Beulah-land, my brother?" asked the sky pilot.

"Sure!" answered the hopeless minority, "but I ain't going with any excursion."

Winlock Folk Here—

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sturdivant and daughter, June, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Peer and sons came from Winlock, Washington, Friday evening, and spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lack of Light Explains the Frown

When a person frowns or squints while doing close seeing work, it's nature's warning that something may be wrong with the lighting. Continued reading, studying or other close work in poor light often causes eyestrain.

That's one reason why it's so important not to take chances with your home lighting, and it's unnecessary now that your light may be measured and the proper amount prescribed.
