

LET'S BE SOCIABLE

Deborah Circle Holds First Meet—

Members of the Deborah Circle met at the home of Mrs. East Tuesday afternoon for the first fall meeting. Mrs. E. J. Preston assisted Mrs. East as hostess for the afternoon.

During the business meeting of the afternoon, officers to serve for the coming year were elected. Mrs. J. H. Burnside presided during the meeting.

Officers elected were Mrs. Phil Taylor, president; Mrs. F. R. Olin, vice-president; and Mrs. E. J. Preston, secretary-treasurer.

Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Dickson to Entertain Club—

Mrs. Herman Dickson will act as hostess next Wednesday afternoon, September 13, at her home on the Oregon American hill to the Nehalem Social Club. The meeting will be the first one of the fall, it was announced.

Deborah Circle Host To Missionary Society—

The Deborah Circle of the Women's Missionary Society of the Evangelical church acted as hostess to the society Wednesday afternoon at the church social hall for the first fall meeting. Mrs. L. H. Dewey was in charge of devotionals for the afternoon.

Reports were heard from Mrs. G. C. Kirkbride and Mrs. C. A. Malmsten, both representatives of the society to the convention, held at Jennings Lodge July 26, 27 and 28. The theme of the convention was "Follow Thou Me," as reported by the delegates.

The society will meet again on the first Wednesday in October at which time the annual guest day luncheon will be held. Each member is to bring one guest for pot luck luncheon which will be served at 1 o'clock.

Refreshments were served to close the afternoon, by the Deborahs.

O. E. S. Meets Wednesday Evening—

Members of the Order of Eastern Star held the first meeting of the fall Wednesday evening at the Masonic Temple, giving degree work to the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Jean Crawford, and Worthy Patron, Glen Hawkins. Officers of the Order participated in the work and the Matron and Patron were presented with flowers and gifts. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge following the evening's activities.

Mrs. Marston Entertains—

Mrs. Charles Marston is entertaining with a dessert luncheon on Thursday (September 7th) complimenting Mrs. Charles Burrow, Mrs. Hale Greenman and Mrs. Marvin Kamholz.

Other guests invited are Mrs. Connie Anderson, Mrs. Alice Estey, Mrs. Lyman Hawken, Mrs. A. J. Hughes, Miss Alice Hoffman, Mrs. Fred Olin and Mrs. Walter Vaughan.

Contract bridge and Chinese checkers will be the diversion.

Study Club to Hold First Fall Meeting—

The Vernonia Study Club will meet Thursday, September 14, was the announcement this week, at the home of Mrs. E. J. Preston on the Oregon-American hill. The meeting will mark the first of the fall and winter series.

Mrs. Ross Duncan will review the book "The Tree of Liberty" written by Elizabeth Page. The book is a historical novel of early America. Mrs. J. W. Nichols will be critic for the study hour.

A change in procedure will mark the first and subsequent meetings, it was stated, in that meetings will be called for 1:30 p. m. with a dessert luncheon. Former procedure has been to terminate the afternoon with a tea.

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

ELSPETH ERIC, star of "Joyce Jordan—Girl in Theatre," pictured here, never stumbles over any medical phrases in the serial's script. Elspeth's father is a doctor and saw that she was well versed in medical terms at an early age.

Most authors find difficulty in writing a novel a year which will hold reader interest from beginning to end. Yet Elaine Sterne Carrington's "Pepper Young's Family" has been heard daily for six years and the program continues to show a steady increase in listener interest.

Cecil B. DeMille calls his Monday night Radio Theatre "the largest theatre on earth." This statement is based on a survey which showed that 30,000,000 ears were tuned to the program on a single Monday. DeMille is reading the first presentation of the new season which will be heard over CBS Sept. 11.

George Jessel's NBC "Celebrity Program" is properly named. With the program of Wednesday, Sept. 13, Jessel will have presented his 100th famous guest. These guests have been noted people of various professions and although many of them were making their first microphone appearances, they provided entertainment which makes the program one of the most popular on the air.

There's an actor in "The Life and Love of Dr. Susan" who stands on his head before each performance of the CBS serial. He's Robert Regent, who plays the part of Peter Bradford. The headstand is part of the yogi exercises to which he adheres.

High in the competition to be known as "the best loved stooge in radio" is the character of Ferdinand, the man-in-the-audience, created by Ward Wilson, pictured here, on the Phil Baker programs over CBS on Wednesday nights. Ferie's mopey questions have won him almost universal affection from the listeners.

"What A Life," Clifford Goldsmith's smash comedy hit which suggested his radio series, "The Aldrich Family," now starring Ezra Stone on NBC, was not his first attempt at drama. Goldsmith confesses to a theatrical mistake entitled "Charlie." The audience didn't even wait for the first curtain, Goldsmith reports.

Bess Johnson, pictured here, first lady of radio, and Katherine Cornell, first lady of the stage, have this in common. Important in their supporting casts is Gee-Gee James, expert Negro comedienne, Gee-Gee's in Miss Cornell's "No Time For Comedy" and plays "Tulip," the maid, in Miss Johnson's "Hilltop House" series.
