News of the Theatre

WILD HORSE FILM OPENS AT JOY—

PICTURE REPLETE WITH INNOVATIONS—

These Glamour Girls, comedy drama of modern collegiate life, which opens Saturday at the Joy Theatre, is a picture replete with innovations.

Lana Turner, who plays opposite Lew Ayers, makes her first appearance on the screen in a top billing role.

Anita Louise, heretofore cast mostly as the dresden china doll ingenue, becomes a heavy for the first time in her screen career.

Marsha Hunt, who also seemed doomed to ingenues, breaks forth with a dramatic characterization of a perennial prom girl who, faced with the loss of her popularity, prefers suicide to humiliation.

JAMAICA INN BOASTS DRAMATIC STORY—

For his newest and most interesting characterization, Charles Laughton has turned to the Daphne duMaurier story, Jamaica Inn, which comes Sunday to the Joy

Maureen O'Hara, a new screen newcomer, shares stellar honors with Laughton and Robert Newton is her leading man in this exciting picture of England's wreckers, men of the Cornwall coast who lured ships to their death on the rocks for the sake of plunder. Alfred Hitchcock directed.

REALISTIC FIGHTS IN THE CHAMP—

Inner secrets of border gambling houses, of the fight racket, exciting races at Caliente and other thrills abound in a human interest story.

The sons of the Pioneers, radio and screen vocalists featured in Columbia's The Man From Sundown, starring Charles Starrett at the Joy Theatre, play themselves in this picture.
