News of the Theatre

ELLIOTT BRINGS LAW TO TEXAS IN TENSE DRAMA—

Barking guns and flying fists mark the return to the Joy Theatre of Bill Elliott, colorful star of Columbia's new series of historical outdoor action dramas.

Elliott is currently seen as a young Texan lawyer, veteran of the Mexican War, assigned by the Governor of the State of Texas to run down and expose an outlaw gang which has been waylaying unsuspecting ranchers and stage-coaches. In his effort to clean up a difficult situation, created by an old law which prevents peace officers from pursuing criminals across county borders, Elliott disguises himself as a fugitive from justice and joins the outlaw band.

"NO PLACE TO GO" POIGNANT COMEDY-DRAMA AT JOY—

It is a tale of the sort of people everyone knows, and it deals poignantly with a situation which is universal—the design for living which must be worked out in families where there is an aged parent, or parents, and children who have reached maturity and married.

The complications begin when the old man, played by Stone leaves the old soldiers' home, where he has been happy and content, at the insistence of his son, played by young Morgan, and moves to the home of his son and daughter-in-law.

All three have the best intentions but it does not take very long for the old man to realize that it would be best for all concerned if he made his home apart from that of the young couple. The generations are as far apart as the poles, and it is the old father himself who makes the move that is so inevitable.

ACTRESS BRINGS ENTIRE SCHOOL TO HOLLYWOOD—

An entire school, including faculty and students, traveled from New York to Hollywood when Mme. Marie Ouspenskaya, noted Russian actress, started her role in "Judge Hardy and Son," showing at the Joy Theatre Sunday and Monday. Mme. Ouspenskaya, Moscow Art Theatre star, founded a dramatic institute in New York some years ago.

"Judge Hardy and Son" sees Mickey Rooney turn amateur detective, get into girl trouble galore thereby, and amid his comedy trials and tribulations prove himself a hero and inspire his father to a new courage in a poignant heart-interest moment.

THEY HAD TO FIND VIENNESE FOREST FOR A BACKGROUND—

Actors have faced screen tests for many years, but when technicians started out to make screen tests of all the scenic forests in Northern California, it marked the first time in screen history that trees and rocks have been tested for a role.

A technical crew covered California to find the "Vienna Woods" for "The Great Waltz," coming Tuesday to the Joy Theatre.

Beauty spots along the Redwood Highway, in Napa and Sonoma counties and about Clear Lake and the Russian River, were covered in the screen tests.

COLORFUL, COSTLY SETS BUILT FOR LLOYD FILM, "RULERS OF THE SEA"—

No less than twenty motion picture sets, including some of the most colorful and costly sets ever constructed, were required for the new Frank Lloyd film, "Rulers of the Sea," epic story of the triumph of steam over sail which Paramount will present on Thursday at the Joy Theatre with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Margaret Lockwood and Will Fyfe, great Scottish character actor, in the starring roles.

Among the sets built were two sections of the harbor of Greenock-on-the-Clyde, Scotland, as it looked in the early nineteenth century, London's West India docks of the same period, the engine room of the "Dog Star," first ship to cross the Atlantic by power of steam alone, and a completely equipped Scottish machine shop of that earlier day.

Safety-minded citizens of Milwaukee are conducting an informal safety program that is attracting considerable attention in the state, according to an announcement from the traffic safety division of the Secretary of state's office. Each week the Milwaukee paper publishes a column dealing with cars observed at improper practices such as parking on the wrong side of the street, double parking, making U-turns, backing against traffic, etc.

The improper action, the car, its license number and the registered owner are listed in the column and reports from citizens of the town indicate the campaign is having a salutary effect, it was said. Drivers are making it a point of pride not to be included in the column and as a result driving practices in the town are being improved steadily, reports say.
