Donations For Enlisted Men Taken

Company K Facilities Not Sufficient for Latest Enrollees

A fund of $100 was being raised through donations by merchants and individuals Tuesday and Wednesday to finance the purchase of supplies needed by Company K, St. Helens, for the 20 boys enlisted from Vernonia and vicinity.

A communication requesting the $100 and was received the first of the week from the St. Helens Chamber of Commerce. The money will be used to purchase aluminum dishes and trunk lockers for new enrollees due to lack of such facilities. Older members of the company are already supplied.

It was estimated that $5 would purchase needed material for one man.

Association Gives Report

The August report of the Columbia County Cow Testing Association was released this week by George Nelson, county agent. Outstanding herds during the month were those of R. L. Keatley, Clatskanie, with 30 grade Jerseys averaging 779 pounds of milk and 36.4 pounds of butterfat; W. C. Johnson, Mt. with 21 registered and grade Guernseys averaging 801 pounds of milk and 36.3 pounds of butterfat; Frank Hassel, Marshland, with 17 registered and grade Guernseys averaging 953 pounds of milk and 44.02 pounds of butterfat; C. E. Gregory, Goble, with five Guernseys averaging 923 pounds of milk and 39 pounds of butterfat; and R. G. Peterson, Vernonia, with 6 grade Guernseys averaging 587 pounds of milk and 26.3 pounds of butterfat.

Seven Irrigate

This Association has a total of seven members who own and operate irrigation systems.

A noteworthy improvement is observed by the fact that the last three months' records show that dairymen who have irrigated pastures are producing from one-third to one-half that of their fellow dairymen who do not irrigate.

The cost of operating these systems somewhat offsets the profit which these figures could indicate, but they all claim it to be a good investment in that it does away with pasture seeding and at the same time keeps the herd going at an even rate of production the year around.

The music of Jimmie Whetmore and his orchestra will be provided dancers Saturday evening, September 28, at the Legion hall where a public dance is to be staged by Ed Horn and Jack Childs.

$50 Fine Is Assessed Mon.

A fine of $50 was assessed Dale O. Fuller Monday by Loel Roberts in the City Recorder's court for a charge of reckless driving. Recommendation was also made that his driver's license be suspended for a year.

Fuller was involved in an accident early Sunday morning at the intersection of Bridge street and Ross avenue when he attempted to make the turn of the highway at an excessive rate of speed.

His car skidded into Cougar creek, breaking down the sidewalk which crosses the creek, and injuring the woman passenger in the car. According to a police report Fuller was attempting to evade officers hence the excessive speed which made impossible a safe turn at the corner.

Councilmen Hold Meeting

City councilmen met Monday evening for the second regular monthly meeting to transact only a small amount of business and adjourn. Minutes of the previous meeting were approved as was a beer license application made by H. C. McDonald.

The license application, if granted by the State Liquor Control Commission, will be for The Club which has been closed for some time.

Councilmen also authorized City Recorder Roberts to communicate with the Portland firm which furnished the shrubbery at the cemetery regarding the replacing of several shrubs which did not grow after being planted.

Land Utilization Maps Revised

The work of revising land utilization maps of Columbia county was undertaken last week following a recent order of the Land Utilization Committee which is composed of residents over the entire county.

The map is being revised to segregate lands of the county by placing the various parcels in three classifications: lands most suitable for reforestation; lands most suitable for grazing; and lands most suitable for farming.

The work was done by Lode McDonald and Roland Maston of St. Helens in following the definite working plan of the committee as to use of different classes of land in the county.

Trash Fire Started Thurs.

A trash fire which will destroy all the waste sawdust, bark and rotten lumber remaining after the removal of the Bennett mill, was started last Thursday by Harry Culbertson.

During the time the mill was in operation the collection of waste material reached a height of about 20 feet, it was stated, thereby creating a fire hazard.

The fire was not started until the rainfall was sufficient to remove much of the fire hazard to surrounding property.

It was estimated that the fire would burn for considerably over a month before all trash would be destroyed.

City Hall, Oregon Gas, Electric Office Care for Details

Voters who wish to exercise their right to vote in the general election on November 5 must take care of registration details before October 5, in order to enjoy the voting privilege. If a change of residence has not been made since a voter's last registration it is not necessary to register again.

New Registration

However, should a change have been made, it is required by law that new registration be made.

In order to vote on county, state and national affairs registration must be made at the Oregon Gas and Electric office where Mrs. Letha Tousley is in charge of the work. She replaces Mrs. E. H. Washburn who formerly had charge of the books.

Register at City Hall

For those who live in the city, however, another registration must be made at the city hall in order to vote on the city ballot. Such a resident in order to be eligible for a city ballot must have been a bona fide resident of the city six months previous to the election date and a qualified voter of the State of Oregon.

Several questions of importance will require voters' attention, among them the election of two city councilmen for terms of four years each, election of a mayor and treasurer and decision on the question of prohibiting the sale of all alcoholic liquors.

Army Recruits Gain Numbers

The old axiom about men preferring the trials of military combat to the distress of domestic battle must be credited with a certain amount of truth in the opinion of Lieutenant Colonel H. D. Bagnall, Oregon recruiting officer, Portland. Although a considerable increase in the number of marriages is reported since congressional action on the conscription bill, the Colonel reports that many men are now volunteering for the regular army in an effort to escape further marital difficulties.

Men who have already sworn "to love, honor and cherish" the "little woman" are not permitted to take the oath of enlistment. Army regulations specify that all applicants must be SINGLE citizens between 18 and 35, physically and mentally fit and of good character. Even though no exceptions can be made, many pleas come in reading much like the following extract from a typical letter:

"Men are wanted in the Army, and I want to get in, but I have been married a little over a year. Please write me an answer and tell me what I should do. I know I can make good, because my heart is set on it."

The army has no advice to offer. But perhaps one should agree with the cynical sergeant who remarked that he couldn't help admiring a fellow who was willing to take on the nation's troubles in addition to the domestic variety.

Candidates Must Be Named Soon for Balloting on November 5

Chamber of Commerce officials, at the request of several Vernonia citizens, this week announce the date of Monday, September 23, for the staging of a mass meeting at the Legion hall. The mass meeting, or caucus, whichever it may be termed, is being held for the nomination of names of candidates to appear on the city ballot November 5. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock.

Four to Be Named

Two councilmen for terms of four years, a mayor and a city treasurer must be elected to fill terms which expire this year. In order that nominations for those positions could be made it was decided Wednesday that a meeting be held as soon as possible and accordingly the Monday date was chosen.

Legion Hall Available

The Legion committee in charge of the hall was contacted relative to use of the building that evening and gave their consent. The caucus cannot be held less than 40 days before election date according to city laws. Therefore, the last day for a caucus will be September 26, next Thursday.

In order that the meeting be successful and candidates be nominated, residents of the city are urged to keep next Monday evening open so that they may attend the meeting.

Pioneers to Meet Saturday

A memorial exercise for those pioneers who died during the past year is to be held Saturday as a part of the annual meeting of the Columbia County Pioneer Association. The meeting will be held at the Evangelical church social hall. Anyone who has been a resident of the county 45 years is considered a pioneer according to Oscar Weed who has been making local arrangements.

The day has been arranged for a program in the forenoon with music being supplied by the Vernonia high school, a pot-luck noon luncheon and the afternoon given over to visiting.

First Checks Out Earlier

First benefit payments for compliance with the agricultural conservation practices in the 1940 program have been made approximately a month earlier this year than was the case last year, according to reports from the state office at Corvallis.

The honor of being the first to receive their checks this year went to 10 Hood River county farmers who had earned payments averaging $28.77, although approximately 42 per cent of this had been pledged in advance as payment for phosphate fertilizer. More rapid checking of compliance in the counties, making possible earlier filing of applications, as well as improved methods of office handling, are responsible for the earlier distribution of payments this year, according to state officials.
