Red Cross Report Given Study Club—

A report from Mrs. Wallace McCrae on the amount of money gained from the Red Cross drive conducted by Study Club members was announced at the meeting of that organization last Thursday at the home of Mrs. F. R. Olin who was hostess for the day. Mrs. McCrae stated that to date $295.67 had been given her by the solicitors and that sum far exceeded expectations. The amount according to Mrs. McCrae, chairman of the Civic committee, consisted of donations from individuals with the exception of $38 given by organizations in town.

The program was given by Mrs. Richard Fletcher. She reviewed the book, "Treasury of the World's Great Letters," by M. Lincoln Schuster. The author who for 25 years was a publisher hit upon the idea in 1923 in compiling great letters for book publication; as a result a dramatic collection of letters may be read in "Treasury of the World's Great Letters". The epistles date from 1334 to the present date.

The annual Christmas party of the club will be held at the next meeting December 19; Mrs. J. W. Nichols will be hostess. For the review Mrs. A. J. Hughes will tell of "One Hundred and One Christmas Facts and Fancies" by Alfred Hotte.

GINNY SIMMS RETURNS—

Ginny Simms, California song thrush and featured soloist with Kay Kyser's famous radio and dance band, is seen in an important, glamorous role in "You'll Find Out," Kyser's second and latest film.

Ginny made her screen debut with Kyser in "That's Right, You're Wrong," and received so much fan mail that RKO Radio decided to give the lovely singer a more important role in the new picture.

L'I' ABNER—

Dogpatch's most eligible and shyest bachelor, Li'l Abner has a high old time dodging Daisy Mae, Cousin Delightful, and Wendy Wilcat in RKO Radio's howlingly funny "Li'l Abner," based on Al Capp's United Feature Comic and played by a top notch Hollywood cast. A "Sadie Hawkins Day" celebration is one of the big scenes in the picture.

with zebra stripes before flying over the length and breadth of the Dark Continent, she reveals in "I Married Adventure," the amazing Columbia production that embodies the highlights of her thrilling travels at the Joy Theatre December 14. COLMAN, SUPER-SALESMAN—

What do you think happens when an earnest artist tries to convince a husky ex-gridiron star that he should let him take his fiancée on a pre-nuptial platonic honeymoon to Niagara Falls?

The hilarious answer is found in RKO Radio's sophisticated comedy romance "Lucky Partners," co-starring Ronald Colman as the unconventional artist, Ginger Rogers as the girl in the case, with Jack Carson featured as the erstwhile football player turned fathead fiancée.

DOCTOR ROLE FOR KARLOFF—

Boris Karloff, whose reputation as a monster on the screen is belied by his off-screen personality, is happy about the series of pictures he is making for Columbia. Based on scientific facts, the pictures concern current experiments in the field of medicine. He is starring in the third, "Before I Hang," which concerns the prolongation of life, and is at the Joy Theatre Tuesday.

Portraying the early nineteenth century counterpart of the present day candid camera fiend, Dick Foran is seen as a daguerrotypist in Universal's "The House of the Seven Gables," at the Joy Theatre Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Modern "minnie" camera enthusiasts will chuckle at the clumsy apparatus, as displayed by Foran in the action of the picture.

Bobby needs BETTER LIGHT!

A cute little lamp like that above was never meant for studying. It puts such an extra strain on working eyes that it's no wonder Bobby can't concentrate on studies.

Give him a Certified I.E.S. lamp with at least a 100-watt bulb. You'll save his eyes from strain and you'll make his studies easier. Chances are that his grades will pick up, too. And while you're protecting his eyes try better light yourself. You'll soon want it all over the house.
