

LET'S BE SOCIABLE

Condit's Give Picnic for Faculty—

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Condit were hosts Tuesday night for a picnic given for faculty members of the Washington and Lincoln grade schools. The cut-door party was held on the grounds about the Condit home.

Firemen Have Banquet Tuesday—

The Vernonia Firemen held their annual banquet Tuesday evening of last week in the social hall of the American Legion hall. Wives of the firemen prepared and served the meal. Guests were Water Superintendent Kent and Floyd Ensworth of the Oregon Gas and Electric.

Following the banquet, the group were guests of the Joy Theatre management.

Nehalem Club Meets Wednesday—

Mrs. Marvin Porterfield was hostess for the meeting of the Nehalem Club held Wednesday, May 14. Twenty ladies of the Eastern Star were present. Plans were made for presenting in the near future a chest of drawers filled with household linens.

Red School House Used as Theme—

The annual Senior Banquet was held Wednesday night in the Legion hall with members of the Auxiliary in charge. Using the colors of the class of '41, red and white, the theme of "the little red school house" was carried out. A miniature school was the main table decoration with napkins imprinted with class colors, motto and flower, and with place cards representing states.

Bill Duncan, class president, was master of ceremonies. Response from other students and teachers was given. Miss Alvenia Connell sang, Miss Erma Koberstein gave a reading, and the high school girls' sextette sang.

Tawankas Complete Year's Work—

The Tawanka Campfire Girls completed a year's work Monday afternoon when they held their Council Fire. Miss Grace Condit, guardian, presented the beads and rings to the Wood Gatherers, and pins to the Trail Seekers who were also given honor beads by Hazel Jones, second year girl.

The graduating Trail Seekers are: Aileen Uhlir, La Rue Moon, Joyce Hatchard, Ruth Tackett, Jean Turner and Jean McDonald. The Wood Gatherers are: Hazel Jones, Junie May Hobson, La Vonja Hobin, Betty Cummings, Sheila Bailey and Evelyn Stevenson.

With the guardian, Miss Condit, the group spent Saturday and Sunday at the Campfire cabin in the city park.

Dr. Munk Addresses Study Club Thursday—

Dr. Frank Munk was guest speaker at the annual Guest Day program given by the Vernonia Study club May 15. The affair, held at the home of Mrs. Judd Greenman, was attended by members and their guests which included the teachers of the city schools.

Music preceding the address was provided by Miss Alvenia Connell with vocal selections, Miss Barbara Sneath with cello solos and by the high school girls' sextette. Miss Eileen Enos accompanied.

Dr. Munk, exiled Czech economist, is author of "Economics of Force" and is a member of the Reed College faculty. In his informal address the economist warned that our democracy should regard the seemingly impossible for meaning rather than the obvious in interpreting Nazi moves and that the psychological aspect of war can be as devastating to a nation as bombing. Members of the Study Club do a great deal for safe-keeping American ideals of democracy by the right kind of propogand, Dr. Munk admonished the group.

Art Teacher Given Shower—

Miss Shirley Weigal, art instructor in the grade schools, was the honored guest at a bridal shower held recently at the home of Mrs. Mason McCoy. Assisting Mrs. McCoy as hostess were Mrs. Dave Marshall and Miss Mary Fossatti.

News of the Theatre

'CISCO' ROMERO RETURNS TO SCREEN—

Lithe as a shadow—and as hard to catch!

Fleet as the wind—and as hard to hold!

Who else could it be but O. Henry's lovable rogue—the Cisco Kid, who returns to the screen in the "Romance of the Rio Grande," the 20th Century-Fox picture which has Cesar Romero in the title role.

Featured with Romero are Patricia Morison, Lynne Roberts, Ricardo Cortez and Cisco's ever-present side-kick, Gordito.

MEET 'JENNIE' A COURAGEOUS WIFE—

Smiling, dimpled dynamite—that's "Jennie", the pretty young wife who fights in a woman's way to hold the man she loves in the film of that name. Lovely Virginia Gilmore, one of the "finds" of the year, portrays the wife who tames a family tyrant and brings joy and adventure into eight empty lives in the 20th Century-Fox film.

ALL THE LEADING LADIES WANT HIM!

Robert Young, who plays the dramatic lawyer-sweetheart of Laraine Day in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," has the record of having appeared with more leading ladies than any other star in Hollywood. During his career he has played opposite most of the important stars of the past decade, including Helen Hayes, Luise Rainer, Myrna Loy, Joan Crawford, Ann Sothern, Eleanor Powell, Maureen O'Sullivan and Ruth Hussey.

DONALD MEEK: BIRD CALLER—

Donald Meek, the amateur gardener, found the hours he has spent observing nature were of little help when he began the task of learning to whistle like a canary, a nightingale, a mocking-bird and a finch for his role in "The Wild Man of Borneo."

It took a vaudeville whistler, Ruby Ray, to teach him the bird lingo. Miss Ray, who can imitate any bird call known, provided the bird calls in "Snow White" and "The Blue Bird," and most recently educated William Powell for the bird "love call" in "I Love You Again."

DESIGNER—

Elviry Weaver, of the famous "Weaver Brothers and Elviry" team, now starred in Republic's "Friendly Neighbors," designs all the hi-billy dresses she wears in her pictures. In private life Elviry is one of the screen's most fashionably dressed women.

NEW "GRACES" FOR MR. GABLE—

Because some producers insist on making motion pictures tell the truth about life, actors are occasionally called on to do things they never did before. The significance of this observation was disclosed when Clark Gable discovered he had acquired new social graces during the filming of "Gone with the Wind."

In the production of Margaret Mitchell's celebrated best-seller novel of the Civil War South, Gable was required to enact for close-ups many intimate accomplishments of a dashing young blood of the '60's.

Gable had to learn to dance the Virginia reel smoothly. A related accomplishment was learning to walk gracefully in trousers that had a strap under the shoe sole, and not so related was the knack of tying Scarlett O'Hara's bonnet string.

The actor customarily smokes cigarettes, but he had to change over to stogies. An expert automobile driver, he had to take lessons at the reins of a pair of carriage horses before he could handle them expertly.

Starred with Gable in the picture are Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland.

Treharne News of Week Told
