Traps Must Have Approved Brand

All traps set for wild animals that may be trapped legally must be marked with a brand approved by and registered with the Oregon State Game Commission, under provisions of a law passed by the 1941 legislature. Applications for brand approval and registration are now being received at the Portland office of the Commission.
 Landowners or lessees of land may use unbranded traps for unprotected nongame animals. In this regard, landowners or lessees must register the location of their land and obtain a permit to hunt or trap fur-bearing animals but there will be no fee charged for this permit.

License Fees Told
 While the resident trappers must continue to pay a $3 license fee, non-resident trappers must obtain a license costing $25 before trapping fur-bearing animals in Oregon.

Another provision of the new law requires that warning signs shall be posted in conspicuous places within 50 feet of all traps larger than No. 5 or with a jaw spread of more than 10 inches.

Season Remains Same
 The 1941 trapping season will be during the same period as heretofore, from November 15 to February 15. Mink, otter and muskrats are the only fur-bearers that may be taken. This does not apply, however, to predatory animals such as cougar, wolves, wildcats, coyotes, skunk, badger, weasel and civet cats, which may be killed at any time of the year.

There is an all-year closed season on beaver, raccoon, fisher, marten and ringtail cat.

Installation Held—
 The Odd Fellows held installation Tuesday night. Those named for office were: Alton Roberson, N. G.; Harry George, V. G.; Paul Gordon, secretary; Sam Hearing, Sr., treasurer; Dwayne Holmes, warden; Robert Slawson, conductor; Sam Hearing, Jr., R. S. N. G.; A. P. Bays, L. S. N. G.; W. G. Heath, R. S. V. G.; Jewell Lloyd, L. S. V. G.; C. M. Plummer, I. G.; Robert Tunnell, O. G.; Dwight Strong, Chaplain; and M. B. Willard, P. G.

In Eugene—
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer plan on spending the holidays at Eugene with the McCraes and the Gordons. The three couples will also motor to the beaches where they will fish.

Arlene Skuzie Improves—
 Reports from Leslie Skuzie on the condition of his daughter, Arline, who was rushed to the Emanuel hospital recently for a ruptured appendix, are that the child is doing as well as can be expected. The critical period is past, states the father, but there is still drainage which will necessitate Arline's remaining in the hospital for a longer period of time. Mr. Skuzie has been driving in each night to be with Mrs. Skuzie and Arline. Wednesday night Miss Joy Willard accompanied him in order that she might visit with Lillian Hedman.

Armitage Ill—
 Bill Armitage is confined to his bed this week following the shock caused by the deaths of his brother-in-law of Portland and a close business associate of Newport. The deaths occurred a week apart.
