Highway Move Causes Change

MIST—Mrs. Clossner was a Portland visitor on Thursday. Mrs. Clyde Henderson's father is visiting with Mrs. Henderson's sister in Portland for a few weeks. Many changes are taking place at the farms down the river on account of the highway changing its course. H. Jepson's barn has been turned around and brought up closer to the highway. The fences on the Hanson place have been moved back. Mr. George has moved his fence and it is taking a part of A. R. Melis' front yard and some of the J. O. Libel yard. Mrs. Anna Sears called on Mrs. A. Dowling Monday afternoon. Mrs. L. Wikstrom and son, Norvin, and Margie, Carl and Shirley, were Portland visitors Saturday, going up for the Pacific Exposition. Dinner guests Thursday of Mrs. Ralph George were Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. J. O. Libel and Mrs. Emma Aldridge. Mrs. Fred Siegenthaler is attending a shower this week in Astoria. Bernard Dowling and his father went to Portland Saturday to see the Pacific Livestock Exposition. The meeting of the Nehalem Unit of County demonstration were resumed last Friday in the Mist gym. There were 12 members present. A delicious pot-luck dinner was served at noon. "Food to Keep You Fit," was the subject. The next meeting will be the first Friday in November at the gym. The Al Becker family was at home Sunday from Tillamook where the family has been living the latter part of the summer. Mrs. William Bridgers was in Portland Friday doing some early Christmas buying for the store. Our school gave a program and pet show Friday afternoon. It was given by the primary teacher, Miss Truby. A very nice program was prepared; some of the pupils bringing one of their pets. Visitors for the program were: Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Jepson and Denny, Mrs. Wikstrom and Paul, Mrs. Larson, Mrs. Clossner and Mrs. Hayden. There were exhibits of cats, dogs, rabbits, fish and chickens.

Mrs. Rachiel Hedlund passed away last Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mae Turnbull, in Cherry Grove where she had made her home for the past two or more years. Mrs. Hedlund was an old and highly esteemed resident for many years of the Nehalem Valley living at what is now called Neverstill. Her husband preceded her in death several years; also two sons, one just last fall. She leaves a son, Paul, of Grand Ronds, two daughters, Mrs. Anna Sears of Birkenfeld, and Mrs. Mae Turnbull of Cherry Grove, two grandsons, Lloyd Sears and Jimmy Person, besides several other relatives and a host of friends who express their sympathy to the relatives. Funeral services and burial was held at Mist Saturday afternoon.

A letter from Mrs. Ed Reynolds tells us she is out of the hospital in Astoria and staying with her sister in Seaside, but she is not feeling too well.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse George were in Vernonia Friday shopping. Mrs. A. Ashby has been confined at home several days with a very severe cold. She's out again at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Ain Wallace were business visitors in Clatskanie Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Batson were up from Seaside and spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Osborn. C. O. Hayden resigned his position on the highway department, as boss and has gone to work for the Mathews Bros. as a truck driver. The family is not moving. He has been overseer of the highway crew for quite a number of years. J. O. Libel purchased a new milk-machine recently.

Mrs. William Bridgers went to Seaside Tuesday.

Mrs. Roy Hughes and Mrs. Ain Wallace were Seaside visitors also. They took a load of household goods down for the Wallaces who are moving soon.

Miss Olive Hanson and a friend were down from Portland over the week-end and visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanson.
