County 4-H Club Events

Miss Blanche Colvin, who is leader of the dairy club at Marshland, tells us that Vera Hillis has become a new member of the group, bringing the membership to eight.

The county extension office has been receiving a great many club report cards recently. Readers of our column may be interested in knowing that each of the various 4-H projects is made up of several parts or divisions, and each member with the completion of a part fills a report card which is mailed to the extension office where, in turn, it is forwarded to the state office in Corvallis. Every member of Mr. Frank G. Morris's dairy club in Vernonia has mailed his first card.

While visiting in the county agent's office we found in his files a bit of interesting county extension history. Mr. Nelson has compiled an interesting book of records pertaining to his work, and here is a part of it which may interest you.

"The county agent extension work was first sponsored in Columbia county by the Columbia County Pomona Grange at its first meeting in November of 1916. According to reports from the various granges, this was first brought to their attention by Mr. O. M. Plummer, secretary of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition of Portland. It has been advised that he wrote a resolution for the Pomona Grange to act upon asking the county court to appropriate money for a county agricultural agent. This resolution was introduced by Mr. Jarvis Davis, and it was supported by Mr. Davis and several others. There was quite a lengthy discussion on the subject, but the resolution was finally adopted by the Pomona Grange.

"The county appropriated money for this purpose in the fall of 1916 in the amount of $1500. This amount was matched by the state, and an appropriation of $1 by the United States department of agriculture, thus an amount of $3,000 was at hand. The $1 was given for the purpose of giving the county agent the franking privilege by being a government employee.

"Mr. D. C. Howard was appointed the county's first agent. He took office on March 3, 1917. Mr. Howard resigned in 1919 to become the manager of a large farm in Washington county.

"Mr. Thomas J. Flippin, Jr., was the second county agent. He resigned in 1921 to continue his college study of the agriculture profession.

"Mr. Frederick C. Hollibaugh was then in office until 1923, and although we have no record of his later activities we find that Mr. George A. Nelson, our present agent, has been in this office from that time on.

"Mr. Nelson tells us that Bachelor Flat, Yankton, and Warren are the county's first 4-H club communities, for dairy clubs were in progress there when he came to this county.

From Mrs. Casswell's office we are told that thus far no new canning club has been organized. Mr. Seymour, state leader, tells us that with the 4-H Victory program in view, we should have several such

Alien Lands to Be Kept in Crops

The O. S. C. extension service will provide advisory service in helping maintain production on farm lands in Oregon formerly operated by aliens of enemy countries, according to an agreement reached at a conference of federal and state agencies concerned.

Maximum protection on all farm lands will be necessary to meet food-for-victory goals, says W. L. Teutsch, assistant director of extension. Under the agreement reached the evacuation itself will be handled by three agencies, the Federal Social Security board, the Farm Security administration and the Farm Credit administration. The entire program is to be known as the Wartime Adjustment program.

NERVES?

Maybe they need Better Light for Better Sight

Don't laugh! It's true. Better light makes a big difference in the way you feel. Try a three-lit E.S. lamp beside your easy chair. See how it discourages grumpiness and sharp retorts.

It's much easier to smile at the end of the day when your kitchen has bright, cheery light. Try a 150-watt bulb in the ceiling fixture. See how it gives your eyes a lift and seems to make recipes go together more smoothly.

Try better light for old eyes and young. Enough light for easy seeing keeps everyone more cheerful... and best of all it costs surprisingly little.
