

LET'S BE SOCIABLE

May 8 Date Set For Church Banquet—

Mrs. Riggins led the devotions from the topic "He Lives Again" at the Evangelical Missionary society's regular meeting held Wednesday of last week at the church. From the study book, "The Seed and the Soil," Mrs. Judd Greenman reviewed the final chapter.

Committees for the annual Mother and Daughter meet to be held on May 8 were named by the president, Mrs. Sidney Malmsten.

The Martha circle of the society served during the social hour symbols of the "Bread of Life," each slice bearing a scriptural reading.

Stars Honor Officers At April 1 Meet—

At the April 1 meeting, the Nehalem chapter of the Eastern Star set aside that night to honor the star point officers. Impressive degree work and presentation of beautiful flowers and gifts to the selected officers highlighted the evening. A short Easter service was held before the group retired to the social hall where a chili feed was given, Mrs. Carroll Brock of Portland visited.

On April 15, at the next meeting of the chapter, the Masons are invited to come at 9:00 p. m.

Easter Dinner Given At Temple Friday—

Eighty persons were present at the dinner given on Good Friday at the Masonic Temple for Masons and Eastern Stars and their families. The tables were prettily decorated with nests, colored Easter eggs, daffodils and candles.

After the dinner a program consisted of a clever roller skating exhibition performed by Babe Moore and Clifford Felton of St. Helens, relatives of Mrs. Glenn Hawkins, and two movie shorts, a news parade and a football feature, by Paul Gordon were enjoyed, Mrs. Ray Mills provided the music throughout the evening.

Rainbow Girls Have Special Service Sunday—

Social Club Plans Benefit Dance—

The home of Mrs. William Heath in Riverview was the scene April 1 for the meeting of the Rebekah Mountain Heart social club. Hostesses were Mrs. Louis Schroeder and Mrs. John Biggs. Plans were made for a benefit dance to be given on April 19 to raise funds for improving the I. O. O. F. hall which is also used as the Casualty Station.

Gifts were presented Mrs. Ross Duncan and Mrs. Oscar Kaphammer who are to soon make their homes in Portland.

Mrs. Junkins will be hostess for the next monthly meeting, May 5.

Condits Hold Family Reunion—

Members of the H. M. Condit family held a reunion last week-end, the first in 15 years. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mathews were hosts for the group at dinner Saturday evening and the E. H. Condit entertained Easter Sunday.

Attending the family gathering were the parents, the H. M. Condit, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Condit and daughter of Portland; Mr. and Mrs.

Ralph Condit of Seattle; Mrs. George Wallace and two children of Nestor, California; Mrs. Dave Buchanan and two children of Roggin, California; Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Condit and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mathews.

Mrs. East Entertains Deborah Circle—

Mrs. Ernest East entertained the Deborah circle of the Evangelical Missionary society at her home on the O. A. hill Tuesday afternoon. A discussion of the Mother and Daughter get-together to be held at the church May 8 was held during the business meeting.

Grand Chancellor to Visit Lodge—

Melvin Ewin, Grand Chancellor of Oregon for the Knights of Pythias, will visit Harding Lodge on Monday evening, April 13th. In honor of the visiting official, two candidates will be given the work of the first degree.

Mrs. America Meets the War

EDITOR'S NOTE:

War touches every home and every citizen. This column, based on official government information and prepared by the Office for Emergency Management, shows how the war will affect Mrs. America and her home.

Floor lamps, table lamps, bed lamps, dressing-table lamps—all are going to be scarce. Immediate curtailment of production of all portable lamps has been ordered, and the use of metals in their manufacture is drastically limited. Flashlights will be wearing new-style cases too, because all the usual metals, like chromium and nickel, have been prohibited for this use. Overworked plastics will probably come to the rescue.

From now on, your grocer may not sell you as much tea as you ask for. The country's entire tea supply is being restricted and grocers have been asked to distribute their supplies evenly among their customers so hoarders won't get more than their share. Tea packers themselves are prohibited from selling more than 50 per cent of what they did in 1941. And to help the grocer in limiting sales, the government is also regulating the size of packages for retail sale. You won't be able to buy more than quarter-pound packages, or 50 individual-size tea balls.

Do you have a 16 millimeter motion picture sound projector? If it's a 1939, 1940, or 1941 model, your government wants to buy it. Production of new projectors is being cut because of the aluminum required in their manufacture, and the machines are in high demand for quick teaching of both the armed forces and defense workers. If you have a projector you are willing to sell, write, giving the model and the price you ask, to M. D. Moore, Electrical Appliances and Consumers' Durable Goods Branch, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

In the hubb over the curtailment of wool for men's suits and women's coats, you may not have noted that after April 5 no new blankets can be made of 100 per cent wool. Eighty per cent is the limit.

If you have been paying 55 cents a pound for pork chops, it's your own corner butcher who is to blame. Two weeks ago ceiling prices were put on wholesale pork products. If prices are exorbitant, it is because the retailer is doing some private profiteering. Just issued is a guide for Western buyers which gives maximum prices for various pork cuts. The prices vary in different states, but here are the absolute top prices for the West: Pork chops, 49c; sliced bacon, 46c; sliced ham, 73c; salt pork, 30c; whole ham, 40c. If prices are higher than this, protest first to your butcher, then, if necessary, to the Office of Price Administration.

Although the busy bee has had his share of compliments, he's never been so important as he is today. With honey turning into liquid gold, the government has just ordered present stocks conserved so that there will be ample for household consumers. In order that Mrs. America may have honey to supplement her sugar allowance, industrial users are ordered to limit the amount of honey used in manufacturing such products as ice cream, candy, soft drinks, bakery goods and medicines.

You won't be using a dash of shellac to smarten up as many articles as you did in the past. Shellac is being limited for civilian use because it is needed for a wide range of military and naval equipment and is used to coat artillery shells.

Shoes, like almost anything else in prodigal American, have been made with an eye for style, rather than thrift. The government is now telling shoe manufacturers that they must save leather and cut down on its use in uppers as well as soles. Many shoe designs wasted leather, so all high-cut patterns, overlapping tips, and fancy trims must go. Leather is necessary for so many military items that none of it must be sacrificed to style.
