

Explanation Made Of Aid Society

Several questions have been asked about the Boy's and Girl's Aid Society of Oregon, which has been asking for contributions lately. Mr. F. R. Olin, in charge of the drive here, has the answers. It is a privately-maintained child-placing agency caring for dependent children from all counties of the state. Ages range from infancy to 18 years. Headquarters are at 1504 S. W. 11th Avenue, Portland. It was established in July, 1885 and has registered over 7,000 children and served many more. It is certified by the State Public Welfare Commission and the State Board of Health and endorsed by the Portland Community Chest.

In Oregon it is the only member of the Child Welfare League of America. The children come to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society from the Court of Public Relations, County courts, and from their own parents on personal release. Shelter homes located in Portland are used for temporary care. Private foster homes are carefully selected to meet each child's needs. Nominal board is paid and the child may remain in this foster home for a few months or throughout his childhood. His progress in adapting himself to the home is continually supervised by a skilled case worker. Children visit the Society medical clinic for regular examinations as their health is, of course very important. The money for this service comes from memberships and donations, Portland Community Chest, and states and counties.

Navy School at G.E.

Just one evidence of the cooperation between the armed services and our vast industrial army—a school for submarine electricians conducted at one General Electric factory.

1. Electricity is vital to the running of every submarine. It does an amazing variety of important jobs, from turning the propeller to cooking the coffee.

2. For that reason, there must be well-trained electricians on every underwater craft. At this school, Navy electricians attend classes taught by G-E engineers.

3. and go out into the shops where they watch workmen construct the same kind of electric equipment that will some day be put in their charge.

4. This is but one proof of the thorough training which the U.S. Navy gives its men, so that the vital equipment of war will always be ready for action.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

Mrs. America Meets the War

EDITOR'S NOTE:

War touches every home and every citizen. This column, based on official government information and prepared by the Office for Emergency Management, shows how the war will affect Mrs. America and her home.

June brides need not worry about stoves for new homes despite restriction of the country's output of domestic cooking and heating appliances. Smaller companies will be allowed to make a limited number of simplified models for civilian use so the facilities of larger producers and more iron and steel can go into the war effort. However, by the time the order becomes effective on July 31st, there should be about 2,000,000 new stoves in the country—plenty for the crop of brides and Mrs. Americas for the year to come.

Your husband isn't going to lose his shirt, but there's a pretty good chance that it will be shortened. The shorter length is one of several measures being suggested to produce more shirts out of less cloth. The order under consideration to save yardage would not change the looks of hubby's shirt. It would, however, restrict the length of collar points, reduce the number of buttons on a shirt, eliminate French cuffs and go away with pockets on his dress shirt.

Nuts to Hirohito and Hitler. The cashew nut is going right from the bridge table into the battle of production. This bland nut, wonderful to nibble while you trump your partner's ace, is not going to be imported in the usual quantity. Its importation has been restricted to make sure that the maximum amount of oil from cashew nut shells is extracted in the exporting country cashew nut shell oil is a valuable war material. It is used in making electrical insulating materials, plastics, paints and varnishes, and paper, and as a pigment in many manufacturing processes.

Your home front is not a far cry from the production lines. You should look out for the family's health, especially for the Mr. America who works on the assembly line. His time at work is too valuable to his country, to let colds or stomach upsets keep him away from his job. Records show that nine-tenths of industrial disability is caused by disease and injury not associated with working conditions. So Mrs. America, you can help safeguard the 100,000 man hours that go into the construction of a bomber, or the 500,000 man hours it takes to build a liberty ship.

Here's one order that you won't put away in mothballs. It's the conservation order which places the distribution of naphthalene under rigid allocation control after June 1. As you know, moth balls are made of naphthalene. But naphthalene can do more than deal a death blow to enemies of your clothes closet. Its most important use is in the production of smokeless powder.

Vernonia Defense

ments of civilian protection were on the job.

Other less spectacular departments of civilian defense are working in Vernonia too. The high school athletic coach is just going to work on a physical fitness program, (sort of extra-curricular in that city of mill workers and lumbermen, but if the government says physical fitness, b'gosh, they'll have it, or bust).

In fact, aside from a control center, which they do not need, because of the compactness and general lack of telephones, Ver-nonia is ready to go.

I thought you'd like to know piacency. I think many a bigger cause it is the best town in Oregon, more advanced culturally and financially and more sophisticated, or anything like that, but could with value send someone to because it is a fine example of see how it is done in this village of real cooperation and an inspiration sawmill hands and lumberjacks.
