

New Meat Ceiling Prices Effective

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown issued on April 5 specific cents-per-pound retail ceilings on beef, veal, lamb and mutton to go into effect April 15, providing uniform maximum prices in all stores of the same type in each of 12 pricing zones into which the country is divided.

With these new ceilings posted at each meat counter or store, every American housewife will know the top price which she may be charged when she surrenders to her butcher the necessary red stamps from war ration book two.

Pork Already Controlled
Pork already is under similar retail controls. This, the latest move sets price ceilings—readily identifiable to shoppers in each city, town and hamlet—on every important meat reaching the American dinner table. Striking a telling blow at black markets in meat, the new price action—coupled with meat rationing—will make it impossible for black market operators to continue to pose as legitimate retailers.

Effective April 15, no retailer can charge more for the 102 cuts of beef, veal, lamb and mutton in five officially established grades of beef and veal, four grades of lamb and three grades of mutton than the ceiling prices noted by OPA. However, the retailer at any time may charge less than these new ceilings.

Grading Required
This regulation is the first to establish grade prices at the consumer level for meats. It requires the retailers to have every piece of beef, veal, lamb and mutton in his store properly grade-marked according to government standards. This assures the housewife of getting the standard of quality for which she is paying.

Maximum retail prices for the nine most popular types of grade

A beef, veal and lamb, effective April 15 are as follow:

COMMODITY	Independent All ZONE 1	Stores with other less than retailers
Leg lamb, whole half or short cut	45	43
Lamb rib chops	52	50
Veal chops	54	52
Roast beef 10" rib	40	38
Round steak (bone in)	50	48
Sirloin steak (bone in)	48	46
Porterhouse steak	64	61
Chuck roast (bone in)	37	35
Ground beef (hmbgr)	33	32

Calif. Ore. — annual sales Wash. and Nev. $250,000

Prospective Truck Buyers Cautioned

Prospective purchasers of trucks or other commercial vehicles should apply to the office of defense transportation for a certificate of war necessity before making the purchase, Herman O. Sites, district ODT motor transport manager, warned recently.

"Any person who expects to buy a truck should first find out whether we are going to issue him a certificate of war necessity, which he must have to buy gasoline, tires or parts," Sites said, "because in some cases we will not issue it and then if he has already bought the truck he is stuck with it."

Sites explained that no new transport operations may be started unless they are tied in closely with the war effort and new certificates will be granted only on that basis. Until after April 1, truck owners were able to obtain emergency transport gasoline rations but effective April 1, they must have the certificate to buy gasoline.

LAND OFFERED
The Milwaukee railroad has offered its 35,000 employees the use of suitable vacant land for Victory gardens.

Those Who Are In It

Technical Sgt. Garth Harlan was recently transferred from Patter-son Field, Ohio (near Dayton) to New Orleans, Louisiana, where he is an instructor in the signal corps. Sgt. Harlan was married at Patter-son Field to a girl from Colum-bus, Ohio. Sgt. and Mrs. Harlan made the trip to New Orleans, which they like very much, in a trailer house.

MIST—Fireman 1/c John Thomas of the U. S. navy was visiting his parents here for a few days recently.

"Well, folks, I have met the enemy and it is really tough—so am I now," wrote Leroy Bell on a postcard to Mrs. J. Peachey. It was written January 22, and post-marked February 25. He continues "George (Peachey) is okay and he's getting fatter everyday and I am running a close second to him."

MIST—Walter Larson left early last fall to serve his country, first going to Fort Lewis and soon afterward to Colorado, where he is thought to be at present. For some time after arriving in Colorado he was quite ill, and while recuperating did typing, bookkeeping, etc. He is the son of T. W. Larson, now deceased and lived with his folks here in the village. He worked at the O-A mill in Vernonia.

You can get the mumps in the army, just as you can in civilian life, it appears. Frank Smejkal was released from the hospital at Camp Baine, California, after a three weeks seige of the mumps.

The Forum

Address by Dr. George Barton Cutten Before Northern Baptist Convention
Extension of remarks of Hon. Arthur Capper of Kansas in the senate of the United States, Monday, July 6, 1942.

Mr. CAPPER, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the Appendix of the Record an address delivered by Dr. George Barton Cutten, president of Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y., at the Northern Baptist Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, and printed in Progress magazine published by the International Reform Federation of Washington, Clinton N. Howard, editor.

There being no objection the address was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

We are at war. Alcohol and war do not mix any better than alcohol and gasoline. Perhaps a mere voter and a modest taxpayer should not be expected to both-er his head about the conduct of the war but the fundamental strategy seems to be for us to drink our way to victory. Is this to be any more successful than the strategy the Washington officials outlined for us in 1932 when we were supposed to drink our way to sobriety?

According to press dispatches, during the 77 days of prohibition in Honolulu after the Jap attack there were 268 arrests, an average of 3.3 daily. When prohibition was discontinued by military order, the first day there were 17 men and 5 women convicted of drunkenness and during the next 30 days the average number of arrests was over 21—more than 6 times the average during the 77 days of prohibition. Barrooms, taverns, beer halls, and cocktail lounges are not fitting schools for soldiers who have a world war on their hands, and Army officials who think otherwise should reassign the thinking to competent heads. Van Loon told us that Singapore "maintains a set of bar-rooms the splendor of which is famous all over the Orient." How much this had to do with the col-lapse of the Gibraltar of the East has not yet been evaluated.

The American Business Men's Research Foundation not long ago issued a statement in which were these words: "Beverage alcohol has played an amazing part in undermining and ultimately bringing about the defeat of practically every nation that has lost the crucial decision on the field of bat-tle or in conflict with other peo-ple. Liquor has defeated more men, more armies, more nations than any other cause." In 1925 the famous French editor, Payot, wrote: "Alcoholism, under the indifferent eye of the authorities, is indeed destroying the nation." As recently as the French debacle the verdict of the government was, "Alcohol was the chief cause of the French armies' collapse and the worst of France's four great-est problems." General Petain, with tears in his voice if not in his eyes, said, "Our soldiers were drunk and could not fight. Since the victory of the World War the spirit of pleasure, of riotous liv-ing, and drinking has prevailed over the spirit of sacrifice." France was at that time consum-ing on an average of 2½ quarts of alcoholic beverage a week per person, the largest amount of any nation in the world. That is the way France drank her way to vic-tory. All the great nations now at war, with the single exception of our own, have made somewhat drastic regulations for the cur-tailment of the use of beverage alcohol.
