American Income Rises 35 Cents; Living Costs Up 6 Cents Over 1942

PURCHASING POWER MAY, 1942 vs. MAY, 1943

THE above chart, showing how the average American fared in national income changes in the last twelve months is based on the monthly consumers' study of Investors Syndicate of Minneapolis. The American public in May had a "real income" of $1.27, or an increase of twenty-seven cents on the dollar over the same 1942 month. This "real income" is not a subtraction of cash income and expenditures but an average relative of these figures designed to show how living costs affect adjusted income dollars.

Cash income of the American public in May was $1.35 for every $1 a year earlier. This gain of thirty-five cents on the dollar resulted from the following changes per dollar: wages up thirty-nine cents, salaries thirty-two cents and other income up thirty-nine cents on the dollar. Investment income at 95 cents was down five cents. Rents and clothing in May were unchanged compared with a year ago. Food was up seventeen cents. Miscellaneous items were one cent higher than in May, 1942.

OSC Develops 5 New Berries

Five small fruit varieties which have been named and introduced for general use from the cooperative small fruit breeding project at the Oregon State college experiment station are described in a new station bulletin No. 416 "New Berries from Oregon's Breeding Research."

The five berries that have been selected from more than 150,000 individual crosses are the Corvallis and Brightmore strawberries, Pacific and Cascade blackberries and Willamette red raspberry.

The Cascade and Pacific blackberries are both hybrids resulting from crossing one of the trailing wild blackberries with the Logan berry. In size they approximate the Logan and have the characteristic flavor of the wild trailing blackberry.

The new Willamette red raspberry produces big yields of large berries excellent alike for canning, freezing or the fresh fruit market. The flavor while good is not as intense as that of the Cuthbert.

Natal Grange Has Outdoor Party

NATAL—Lew Choates had the misfortune to hurt his hand quite badly one day last week when his hand became fouled in the trip rope while working for Mr. Wolff.

The outdoor party Wednesday, July 28 at the Natal Grange hall was quite a success. A large crowd attended and a good time seemed to be had by all. Music was furnished by a group of young folks with Eleanor Corll on the xylophone.

Eleanor Dass has been working for Mrs. Don Pringle for a few days.

Like to Pay 7c A Pound For Beef?

Who wouldn't? But that was way back in 1820, when pork was 11c a pound, and eggs, 12 1/4c a dozen.

Of course prices are very much higher nowadays. Still you can be sure that King's Grocery makes it's prices as low as possible. That's one of many reasons why it will pay you to shop there.
