Helping Circle Makes Decision

(Omitted last week)

MIST—The Mist Helping Hand Circle met last at the home of Mrs. Robert Mathews and about one-third of the members attended. A most delicious dinner was served at noon, after which our president, Mrs. Sundland, called the meeting to order. It was decided by vote to rest the circle for the July and August meetings, taking up in September. Two names were voted on for membership: Mrs. J. Houry and Mrs. A. Adams. The members worked Monday and Tuesday of last week cleaning the cemetery. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Robert Mathews in June.

Harold Ashley is planning on spending part of his vacation in Washington at the home of his grandparents.

Mrs. Elva Owens was a guest Wednesday night of last week at the home of Mrs. Walter Mathews.

Mrs. Chas. Hanson was a visitor to the doctor's office Wednesday of last week.

Chas. Sundland and Bernard Dowling were doing some wiring last week down at Jewell.

As our school closed a week ago Friday, the teacher, Mrs. Enneberg moved to her home in Mayger and the Brown family moved into that cottage vacated.

The school closed by having a community supper, picnic style, and friends availed themselves of

Traffic Death Rate Stays Same

Oregon's traffic death rate for the first four months of 1946 was 11 persons killed per one hundred million miles of travel, exactly the same as for the same period of 1945, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrel Jr., said.

"Thus, while actual deaths are considerably higher than they were a year ago, the death rate, which shows the number of deaths in relation to the exposure to accident, has not increased."

Motor vehicle used during the first four months of 1946 soared to new highs for this state. The month of April, for example, saw the highest gasoline consumption of any one month in the state's history.

the pleasure of attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lloyd Eastman and children visited from Klamath Falls over night last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Eastman. Dell, another son from Carlton, was also a guest.

We saw a picture of Percy Melis, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Melis, in a daily paper last week. He had landed in Japan to work under orders of Gen. MacArthur in forestry. It's quite an honor and we are proud to see a local boy receive such an assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Larson were here recently from Alsea, visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Batson. They took little Lindy Lou home. She had been visiting her grandparents the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Houry were Seaside visitors recently.

Baby Trees

need care too...

FOREST PROTECTION IS A BIG JOB!

You can make the job easier with only a little effort on your part.

The fire-watcher, in his tower, protects baby trees which will some day produce forest crops for your many needs. Perhaps he guards a tree farm . . . perhaps a young forest. He knows that baby trees must be watched over as carefully as any young baby.

Every year fire destroys millions of both young and mature trees worth millions of dollars. Most forest fires are caused by people.

Don't be one of the people who cause fires.

Break that match between your fingers . . . Smudge out that cigarette under your heel . . . Make sure your campfire is out before you leave it.
