Chapel Wedding Rites Performed at Seattle

RIVERVIEW—A pretty chapel ceremony was performed in the minister's chapel in Seattle, June 18 in which Mary Jane Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Robbins and Claud R. Jones, L3c, were united in marriage.

Mr. Jones was having a 72-hour leave and the young couple agreed that "time and tide for no man wait."

The bride wore a light blue dressmakers outfit with a corsage of rose buds and gardenias.

The bride's brother, Lawrence Robbins, was best man.

The paint industry estimates that 10,000,000 home owners are painting their homes, or trying to, due to shortage of painters.

Ratie was in Seattle Sunday of last week to see her daughters, Mrs. Harvard Malmsten with her daughter, Smiley, and Mrs. Bob Beck with her infant son, Bobby Joe, board a plane and fly away into the blue towards Anchorage, Alaska, to join their husbands and daddies. She then spent the day with her sisters, Mrs. J. V. Dunlap and Mrs. Al Prewitt and arrived home Monday where she found a message that the foursome had arrived safely at Anchorage at 5 p.m. Sunday. Louis Huntley, who was having poor health, went to the Emmanuel hospital the first day of his July vacation from his job at the O-A mill and has been detained there since. His wife, accompanied by her son, Albert, and Louis' brother, Nate, visited him July 4th, but, as he was in an isolation ward, got no information on his case. His many friends hope to see him home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Abney and infant son, James, came Friday for a long week end at the parental, P. L. Welter home and the two families had a pleasant day Sunday at the Oregon beaches. The Abneys left Monday a.m. for their home in Wishram, Washington.

Mrs. Ralph Mahar reports that her sister, Mrs. Herbert Corder, of Portland won an electric range, a number of other electric articles and a Benrus wrist watch last week as a participant in Sammy Kaye's radio program. Do you want to lead a band? Next?

Correspondent Begins 3rd Year

RIVERVIEW—This week we start on our third year of news gathering here and wish to thank our neighbors for their splendid co-operation and for their generosity in overlooking our mistakes and negligence. We are often surprised when we learn of news we failed to find. However we are willing to make another attempt and hope for the same kindly treatment we have received from the Eagle force, our grown-ups and the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parker and Roy Reynolds had a speedy ride Monday night when they left Quincy, California, at 5 p.m. and arrived in Carlton, Oregon, at 6 a.m. Tuesday. National Forest Fire Rules Start

Fire control restrictions in all national forests in the North Pacific region in the States of Oregon and Washington are announced by H. J. Andrews, regional forester, U.S. forest service effective July 1.

These restrictions are placed in effect annually at this time of the

2. Campers must have camp-fire permits for all areas except posted and improved camp-grounds;
3. Persons traveling by car or horseback must carry fire-fighting tools, including an axe, shovel and bucket.
