New Family Living Here

RIVERVIEW — Apologetically Riverview extends a belated welcome to a new family of neighbors who came over from Vancouver, Washington July 9th and are occupying the M. A. Oakes property on the banks of the Nehalem. They are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ernest who this week are glad to report that their son, James, who during the recent war was a member of the U.S.N. and since has been stationed in Korea and China, arrived in Seattle last Monday and received his discharge Thursday and is now with them. Their son, Tom, a Seabee, will soon be discharged. A service flag in their window bears a gold star in honor of their son, William, who was a member of the A.A.F. Mr. Ernest also served two years as a Seabee in World War II and was discharged in October, 1945. The Ernests were formerly Nebraska residents. Another family of new neighbors are Mr. and Mrs. Bledso who are converting the double garage on the property between the Falconbury and Anderson homes into a home for their occupancy. A welcome for them also.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Worley and Jaughter, Venice, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fluke and son, Darrell, drove to Cannon Beach and ate a picnic lunch on a cool windy beach before discovering the Ecola Park where they later enjoyed a more comfortable lunch. Mrs. Worley speaks highly of the accommodations at the park.

The Falconbury home was a scene of festive gaiety Sunday when their daughter, Juanita, celebrated her birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bossen, their son, Royal, and his fiancée, Miss Patricia Denn, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sanders all of Portland and Lolly Grice.

Riley Hall is on the sick list this week. Friends hope he will be better soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schwab and children, Hildegard and Bobby drove to Seaside Sunday afternoon and found the temperature too cool for real enjoyment.

Rex Normand attended the CIO convention at Seaside Saturday and Sunday.

Prospects Better For World Food

World crop prospects indicate somewhat larger food production in 1946-47 than in 1945-46, according to a summary by L. R. Breithaupt, O.S.C. extension economist, based on reports early in May from 28 countries to the USDA office of foreign agricultural relations. A significant increase in food crops acreage and better yields are expected, generally.

Although world food production is expected to be considerably larger than last year, it is likely still to be considerably under prewar output, with the carryover also expected to be low, especially in deficit food producing nations.

The increase in food production in Europe is expected to be considerable in grain and sugar, with some increase in fat, the over-all prospect being for perhaps 90 per cent of the prewar output. Crop conditions show more improvement in western Europe and the Mediterranean region than in central and eastern Europe. Prewar Russia may have around 90 per cent of the 1941 crop acreage.

In north China the wheat crop prospects are more favorable than last year but drought in south China has injured rice. In India drought reduced wheat, rice and millet production, but spring-crop planting conditions have been improved by heavy rains in a number of provinces in recent weeks. A shortage of rice in the Philippines is offset partly by increases of corn, sweet potatoes and other foods. In Japan weather conditions have been favorable and crop yields are likely to be substantially above last year.

The wheat acreage will be larger in Canada, Australia and Argentina. More corn will be available from Brazil where a record crop of rice is also being harvested. More rice is expected from Indo-China and Burma. A larger crop of sugar is expected in Cuba in 1947.

Those increases will be needed to offset deficits under prewar outputs in parts of Europe and Asia and some other areas. Currently, the most drastic reductions in rations are in Germany, Austria and Italy, except in such famine areas as part of China and India.

Increased efforts to move more feed grains from Canada, Argentina, Australia, Siam and other surplus nations, as well as from the United States, are showing results, although belated. The United Kingdom has also diverted much grain to areas where the need was more urgent on assurance of replacements from the 1946 crop in the United States and Canada.
