INJURIES CRIPPLE LOGGERS; TILLAMOOK ON SAT. SKED

The bad luck bugaboo has been the unseen enemy of the Loggers since fall practice started a few weeks ago and is still right at home with the squad. The situation doesn't look too good for this Saturday night when Tillamook comes up from the coast to give the local boys their first competition because four probable first string starters are out with breaks and sickness.

Alvin Tapp, one of Coach Hergert's best linemen is favoring a fractured arm, the result of practice and Lynn Michener will also be on the bench with a broken elbow.

In the backfield Duke Byers will very likely be a missing figure because of an injured shoulder and a severe cold which has kept him home for several days.

Bob Sunnell is also out of the running temporarily with a gunshot wound in his arm.

With all this tough luck Her-gert's boys are certainly bearing down in practice with the idea of pounding out a win Saturday night if that achievement is at all possible.

It was a little early yesterday for the coach to name his starters but he did announce a probable lineup to meet the Cheesemakers with the understanding that there might be a surprise change at the last minute. His probable lineup is: ends—Don Parker, and Don Cline; tackles—Gordon Cline and John Carmichael; guards—Kay Miller and Don Tiffney; center—Kenneth Anderson; right half—Jack Frank; quarterback—Owen East; fullback—Dick Renfro and left half—Tiek Bass.

Hostilities open at the park football field under lights at 8 p.m. with Paul Gordon and Glen Hawkins as officials.
