

Waste Fats for Soap Needed

Soap may be scarce, but it will be even scarcer unless fat salvage collections are maintained at their present level. This warning comes from C. R. Tulley, assistant state director of the production and marketing administration, who asks housewives to do an even better job of salvaging and turning in every possible ounce of used fats, even though meat, the principle source, is also scarce. Fat salvage now represents about 1/12 of the amount of fats and oils required for soap-making, Tulley pointed out. Unless present volume is maintained, as much as a month's supply of soap is likely to be seriously jeopardized.

As to why the soap situation is so much worse than a year ago, Tulley said that because of the world wide shortage of fats and oils, the soap industry is limited to 78 per cent of the fats and oils for civilian soap that it used in the base period of 1940-1941. The civilian population has increased by 9 million, plus 10 million veterans.

Both housewives and dealers who have any trouble turning in salvaged fats are asked by Tulley to contact their county AAA office, or the state PMA office in the Eastern building, Portland.

Want to see meal-time enthusiasm? Serve CHICKEN FRICASSEE

First choice for "perfect eating" in many a household is a fricassee filled with tender morsels of savory chicken. Or, perhaps your family prefers its chicken broiled or fried... cooked golden-brown, served steaming hot. No matter which dish pleases your family most, Safeway has the chicken to make it best. Get a broiler, fryer, roaster or hen today.

Carol Drake's favorite ways to cook chicken.

Did you ever think of the many mouth-watering dishes that you can make with stewing hens?

FRICASSEE CHICKEN
Cut chicken in pieces, roll in flour and brown well in hot shortening. Cover with boiling water, add salt, pepper, chopped onion, parsley and celery leaves; cover and simmer until tender, about 2 hours. Add more hot water if necessary. Thicken liquid and serve over chicken.

SMOTHERED CHICKEN
Brown chicken as directed above, then place in casserole or baking pan. Add enough milk to half cover chicken, cover pan or dish and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until chicken is tender, about 2 hours.

CHICKEN PIE
Cut chicken, place in large kettle and cover with boiling water, add 1 tsp. salt and cook covered until tender, about 2 to 2 1/2 hours. Cool, remove meat from bones. Measure 1 1/2 cups of broth and combine with 1 cup milk and 1/2 cup thinly sliced celery. Make a paste of 1/2 cup milk, 5 tbsp. flour, and seasonings to taste. Add flour mixture to broth and cook until thickened, about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add chicken, 1 cup cooked peas and 1 cup cooked carrots; and simmer until thoroughly heated. Pour into heated casserole, top with biscuit rounds and bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes or until biscuits are lightly browned.
