Riverview Man In Hospital

RIVERVIEW—Polly Lynch motored to Portland Sunday to take her mother, Mrs. George Bell, to stay with her daughter, Mrs. Delbert Glenn.

Mrs. George Davis and son, George, returned home Friday after taking a trip to California where they visited relatives. They report that they had a lovely time.

Oscar Steele was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland Tuesday where he is undergoing an intestinal operation.

Recent visitors at the W. D. Steele home were their daughter, Mrs. L. A. Billings and their granddaughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Snick (Emmalene Billings) and Mrs. Melvin Newby (Alice Billings) and daughter, Melva, of Portland. This is the first time Mrs. Steele has seen her great-granddaughter, Melva.

No Hardship Is VA Instruction

Oregon offices of the Veterans Administration have received instructions that recovery of subsistence allowance over-payments from veterans in training under the GI bill should be made in a manner that will impose no hardships, Thomas M. Craig, VA representative in this area, said this week.

Any veteran whose subsistence has been suspended to balance prior over-payments, and who can show that undue hardship is resulting, should apply to the VA regional office for a readjustment, Craig advised.

The overpayments following wage ceilings set by congress for veteran trainees last August 8. To avoid sudden mass suspensions, the VA continued full subsistence payments, pending receipt of monthly wage reports from trainees.

Report forms sent to veterans contained the warning that any subsistence payments which put a trainee over $175 or $200 income ceilings would be subject to recovery by the government. Many returned their over-payments voluntarily as they were received, but others chose to postpone the "day of reckoning."

During December, 171 veterans in Oregon cleared up their over-payments with the VA. At month's end, 2095 cases of over-payments totaling $151,702 were still outstanding, for which no recovery arrangements had been made. About 2000 trainees with overpayments are still drawing reduced subsistence.

Craig meets with veterans each Wednesday morning in the City Hall at Vernonia.
