Police Begin License Check

State police have begun checking Oregon driver's licenses in Columbia county, it has been disclosed by Robert S. Farrell Jr., secretary of state. Many licenses in this area are known to be past due for renewal.

Under the new law passed by the 1947 legislature, all Oregon drivers' licenses expire during the next two years. They become void according to serial numbers, lowest numbers first. The expiration date printed on the face of the permit is, in most cases, no longer correct.

All drivers' licenses numbered between 5R-66,000 and 5R-99,000 expire this month. Permits with numbers lower than 5R-66,000 expired earlier in the summer.

A complete schedule showing when each permit must be renewed is available free from service stations, sheriff's offices, and driver's license clerks or examiners.
